

READERS OF NATION JOIN IN TRIBUTE TO WILSON

President and Other High Officials Attend Memorial Ceremonies Arranged by Congress.

DR. E. A. ALDERMAN DELIVERS EULOGY

President of University of Virginia Speaks From Rostrum Where Wilson Sounded War Call.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Congress paused in its round of activity today to render homage to the memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The chamber of the House of Representatives was the setting for the memorial services, with Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the World War executive's old alma mater, the University of Virginia, pronouncing from the rostrum where the late President received the Washingtonian custom of delivering in person his message to Congress, the eulogy of Wilson's life and achievements.

Dignitaries of state, political personages of past and present, close friends of the late chief executive, and invited guests made up the gathering, for which all space on the floor and galleries had been reserved. A larger audience had been remembered in arrangements for broadcasting the ceremony through a wide chain of stations. President Coolidge and his Cabinet, Supreme Court Justices, the representatives of foreign Governments, Governors of states, members of the Wilson Cabinet and high officers of the army and navy were among those joining with members of the Senate and House to commemorate the man who lay beneath the towering cathedral spire within distant view of the nation's Capitol.

Program Simple. The program of ceremony was a simple one. Early the great white Capitol gave evidence that it was day apart. Its halls were hushed and the machinery of legislation was stilled. In the morning only members and those having urgent business within were admitted. At 10 o'clock the time set for opening the east doors leading to the rotunda, to admit those accorded the privilege of a seat within the chamber.

Both the Senate and House were called to convene a little before the noon hour, the time of the ceremony, members of the Senate, after prayer, recessing to go to the time chamber. The Marine band played the national anthem, and the House wing shortly before noon.

Calling the session to order, Senator Cummins said: "The two houses of Congress with their invited guests are assembled here today to render tribute to the memory of a great man, a great President, a great patriot, a towering figure in the history of mankind."

With Senator Cummins as president pro tempore of the Senate, the memorial program opened with prayer offered by the Rev. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the House. Introduction of Dr. Alderman by the presiding officer and the address in eulogy of the late President, followed with the benediction by the Rev. J. J. Mulr.

Dr. Alderman's Address. Woodrow Wilson sought to give the twentieth century a faith to which he and to justify the sacrifice of millions of lives in the great war, and if there was failure it was America's failure. Dr. Alderman declared in his address. "To make him, the one undaunted advocate of those hopes, the support of a world conference," Dr. Alderman said, "is to visit upon the world the most cruel of all the curses of its own reason."

The University of Virginia head turned he could not envisage Wilson as a failure as he came back from the Paris peace conference bringing the covenant of the League of Nations and the "imperfect" treaty of Versailles.

Dr. Alderman said: "I would rather see him as a victor and conqueror as he returned from the Paris peace conference."

DR. ALDERMAN'S EULOGY OF WILSON'S 'GOOD FIGHT' BRINGS TEARS TO MANY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. TEARS rolled down many cheeks at the memorial service for Woodrow Wilson at the Capitol today when Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, the eulogist, contrasted the triumphant vigor of Wilson's start for Paris and the bleakness of his return with the Versailles treaty and the covenant.

David P. Houston, who held two Cabinet posts under Wilson, was greatly affected. Other old-time friends and supporters of the War President nodded in approbation of the speaker's words and moisture glistened in their eyes.

"The tired warrior for the common good," Dr. Alderman said, "who had kept the faith, fought the fight and won, instead of hearing 'well done, thou good and faithful servant,' saw himself ringed about with foes of mind to rend and destroy him."

Dr. Alderman quoted the last words of Wilson at Pueblo, where he broke down. They were to the effect that the American people would yet accept the league as an agency to lead the world through "the quiet pastures of world peace."

SEEKS WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS TO GET INTO PRISON

St. Louisan, if "Sent Up," Might Escape Trial on Another Charge.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—Many convicts in the State penitentiary have applied to the Supreme Court for writs of habeas corpus to obtain their release from prison, but Robert Hill, now in the St. Louis Jail, set a precedent today by filing, through his attorney, an application for a writ of habeas corpus to get into the penitentiary. Hill was on bond pending appeal from his conviction in St. Louis on June, 1922, on a charge of robbery and sentence of two years in the penitentiary. Meanwhile he was arrested on a charge of implication in the Chesterfield bank robbery in St. Louis County and faced another trial. Hill surrendered to St. Louis authorities and an attorney came here and dismissed the appeal. The Court then set down a mandate to the St. Louis Sheriff directing that Hill be sent to the penitentiary. But Lewis Sheriff apparently considered there was no hurry and held Hill in jail for St. Louis County officers. The application filed today charges the Sheriff with unlawfully detaining Hill "from his liberty," and asked the Supreme Court to order him sent to the penitentiary immediately. The petition does not set out the St. Louis County charge against Hill. Once Hill was in the penitentiary he might escape trial on the county charge, if the statute of limitations run its course on the county charge before his release.

MARX RESIGNS WITH ENTIRE GERMAN CABINET

Chancellor Tenders Resignations to President Ebert in Berlin.

BERLIN, Dec. 15.—Chancellor Marx today tendered the resignation of his Cabinet to President Ebert.

TOO SWEET FOR A PRISONER

Federal Warden Tells Barry's Wife 40 Pounds Is Above Limit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 15.—Forty pounds of candy is too much for one prisoner in the United States penitentiary to receive at one time, Warden W. I. Biddle decided, when Mrs. John Barry of Chicago arrived with the sweets for her husband, who is serving four years for mail theft at Chicago. He came with "Big Tim" Murphy and V. Cosmano, who were convicted of the same crime. "Warden" pleaded, "Mrs. Barry, 'tho' such a sweet man that I don't believe 40 pounds of candy would be too much for him, especially since he hasn't had any for a long time."

"Of course," responded the Warden, "all of the wives believe their husbands are sweet, but I believe 40 pounds of candy is fixing too high a limit." The Warden finally fixed on a five-pound limit; the rest would have to be in installments. Warden Biddle has contracted for 2800 pounds of candy to be distributed among the prisoners Christmas morning.

4 EX-KANSAS CITY DRY AGENTS GET 2 YEARS IN PRISON

Men Convicted of Zoning Town for Extortion From Bootleggers Also Are Fined $2000 Each.

GIVEN MAXIMUM PENALTY BY JUDGE

Jurist Excoriates Them for Their "Duplicity;" All Are Released on $7500 Appeal Bonds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 15.—Four former prohibition agents, convicted in the Federal Court Nov. 26 of conspiracy and graft in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition laws here, were sentenced to two years in prison and fined $2000 each today.

Sentences were passed by Judge A. L. Reeves. The men sentenced are: Arthur Curran, Elton Apt, Harvey Storms and Manning Wilcox.

The Government charged that the men, while prohibition agents, zoned the city for extortion of money from bootleggers in exchange for protection.

After sentence had been passed attorneys for the convicted former agents filed notices of appeal. The men were released on $7500 bonds.

None of the defendants showed any emotion when sentence was passed, although their attorneys expressed surprise that the judge had imposed the maximum prison sentence possible under the law. The minimum fine is $10,000.

In sentencing the defendants Judge Reeves excoriated them for "their duplicity." He pointed out that they had taken an oath to support the laws and Constitution and that, instead, they had conspired with lawbreakers to disobey those laws.

Judge Reeves said he regretted that he was called upon to pass sentence upon men whom he knew and with whom he had transacted official business. However, he said, he could not be gulled by any sympathy in the matter and that he felt the magnitude of the offense made it imperative that heavy sentence be imposed.

The former agents were convicted by a Federal jury after a nine-day trial. Isaac Martin and Ray Kirk, two other former agents, were acquitted by the jury. A seventh, scheduled to go to trial with the rest, failed to appear and forfeited his bond.

WARDEN OF ATLANTA PRISON, DAUGHERTY'S FRIEND, RESIGNS

Operative of Department of Justice Said to Be Temporary Successor to A. E. Sartain.

By the Associated Press. ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 15.—A. E. Sartain, warden of the Federal penitentiary, has resigned and is succeeded, at least temporarily, by T. B. White, special operative of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, according to reports current today in Atlanta.

White took charge of the institution Saturday. It is reported, having been designated "acting warden" by the Attorney-General.

Sartain was appointed warden during the tenure of Harry M. Daugherty as Attorney-General and comes from Washington Court House, O., the home of Daugherty. No reason for the change is assigned by officials.

ALLEGED ILLINOIS BANK ROBBER TO APPEAR FOR STATE

Said to Have Made Confession Implicating Four Co-defendants in Holdup at Columbia.

JURY IS CHOSEN AND TESTIMONY IS BEGUN

Assistant Cashier Identifies Two of Men on Trial—Two Other Suspects Under Arrest in Oklahoma.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. WATERLOO, Ill., Dec. 15.—One of five defendants who went on trial here today for alleged participation in the $11,377 robbery of the First National Bank of Columbia on Sept. 3 has made an alleged confession implicating his fellow defendants and two others who have been indicted for the crime, but have not been placed in the power of Illinois authorities.

This man is Joe Neuby. He will testify for the State, it has been made known by State's Attorney Friedrichs. His confession, it was stated, was made in jail here late in November to A. C. Bollinger, attorney, and Joseph Schreier, special Deputy Sheriff, representing the Monroe County Bankers' Association. The fact of the alleged confession had not been made known before.

Another defendant, Cyrus Brinkley, possibly will be used as a State witness. No plan for immunity or leniency for testifying has been announced. The other defendants are Jeff Stoenking, Arthur Edgar and Harry Hornberger.

Tells of Stealing Auto. Jess Ripley and Charles Green are the other men under indictment for the robbery. The authorities have been advised that they are now under arrest at Shawnee, Ok., in connection with the $18,000 robbery of the Federal National Bank there last Wednesday.

Neuby's alleged confession, begun with a declaration that Brinkley, Edgar, Stoenking, Green and Ripley stole the Marmon automobile used in the Columbia robbery, in East St. Louis last August. This was the car in which the men, stockyard commission man, who was held up when in company of his wife and several other persons. Members of the Knowles party dropped about $4000 worth of diamonds and jewelry on the floor of the car, but were ordered out and car and jewelry were taken by the robbers.

The stolen car was kept at a roadside house called the East St. Louis, and on the morning of the Columbia robbery Brinkley, Green and Edgar drove it to Columbia. The Neuby statement asserted, while Neuby, Hornberger, Stoenking and Ripley went there by trolley.

By agreement the robbers met at Columbia at 11:35 a. m. and Neuby, who was the driver, took the car to the bank, holding three employees, while the other three stayed outside in the Marmon, the Neuby statement went on to aver.

Apologized for Profanity. Ripley held a revolver toward Assistant Cashier Brucker while the other robbers scooped up the money, the statement continued. Ripley used considerable profanity and Neuby apologized for it to the women employees, Neuby said. The all drove north on the highway to Baltz, south of DuPont, then turned to the Mississippi River at East Carondelet, where a step-ladder of one of the men had a motorboat in readiness, Neuby said.

Crossing the river in the motorboat, they were met on the St. Louis side by three automobiles, which conveyed them across Madison Bridge to a store in Madison, where the loot was divided. Neuby's statement asserted. It added that Neuby received about $1500 and Edgar did not get a full share.

In an alleged supplemental confession Neuby declared that "this same bunch" had driven to O'Fallon, Ill., and "robbed" a bank. They had considered robbing, and that they and six other men at another time had driven to Millstadt, Ill., to hold up a bank, but were scared off because they saw a hatless man running across the street.

The jury was lectured by 2:30 p. m. after examination of a large number of veniremen in the crowded courtroom, filled with residents of Monroe County, which is south of St. Clair County.

After Henry Kunz, president of the bank, established in evidence the fact of the robbery and a surveyor identified a map of the vicinity.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Statistics published today by the Department of Commerce show that virtually one-fifth of all the fatalities from accidents in 1923 were the result of automobile accidents. In Missouri the proportion was slightly less, or about 17 per cent.

Detailed figures for the State, whose population in 1923 was estimated at 3,442,971, were as follows: Deaths from automobiles, 398; railroads, 127; street cars, 21; other vehicles, 11; motor cycles, 70; all other causes, 12,243.

A greater number of deaths occurred in Missouri cities of more than 15,000 population, having an aggregate population of 1,419,007, than in the rural districts, with a population of 2,024,964. The figures for the urban and rural sections of the State were as follows:

Urban—Deaths from automobiles, 295; railroads, 92; street cars, 31; other vehicles, 33; all other causes, 719; total, 1,170.

Rural—Deaths from automobiles, 103; railroads, 121; street cars, 1; other vehicles, 37; all other causes, 811; total, 1,073.

FRICKER FILES MOTION FOR VENUE CHANGE

Illinoisan Under Life Sentence Says He Cannot Get Fair Trial in Madison County.

Emil Fricker, convicted slayer of Robert Kehrl, husband of Fricker's hired girl, today filed a motion in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville for a change of venue in his trial on a charge of murdering John Nungesser, his hired girl's second husband. Fricker got a life sentence in the Kehrl murder, but testimony of Rudolph Kamul, who died a week after Fricker had been sentenced.

Fricker's trial in the Nungesser murder was set for today but continued to Thursday on motion of his attorney. The motion for a change of venue which then was filed bears with it five affidavits in support of the motion. Fricker claims that because of the publicity in this case he can get no fair trial in Madison County. John Nungesser, Fred M. Mueller, W. R. Michael and Joseph Beckel, who live near Highland, make similar affidavits. The chief witnesses in the Nungesser murder will be Jacob Luedert and Eldo Wernle, who have pleaded guilty and are under life sentences. They charge that Fricker planned the murder and forced them to commit it.

SHOT AT ENEMY BUT KILLED FRIEND; GETS 1 TO 14 YEARS

Joseph Stumach of Madison was sentenced to from one to 14 years in prison in Circuit Court at Edwardsville on his plea to a charge of manslaughter in the slaying of his friend, Mike Skundrich, Aug. 14. Stumach was shooting at James Mason, whom he believed his friend slayer when his bullet went wide and struck Skundrich, who was near by.

BANK CASHIER SHOT DOWN WHEN PURSUING ROBBERS

CARNEY, Ok., Dec. 15.—George J. Jonas, cashier of the First National Bank here, today was shot through the head and probably fatally wounded by one of four men who had robbed the institution. Jonas had pursued the men for seven miles, when he overtook them and was shot. No estimate of the loss has been made.

'KATY' PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND ON TRIAL AT CLAYTON

Hearing of a suit to break the will of the late Stanislaus Mitchell, former head of the Mitchell Fire Brick Co., under which he left his $100,000 estate to his wife, Mrs. Annie Berry Mitchell, whom he married six years ago when he was 59 years old and she 58, was begun in Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton today.

Stockdale had testified, in the meantime, that he went to Washington in April, 1922, to see if he could get the hospital contract for the Summer-Sollett Co. of Chicago, by whom he was employed.

He said he met Forbes, Mortimer and Mrs. Mortimer at a social gathering at the home of Mrs. St. Louis, who was then in the city.

He told them that he was through with Mortimer and intended to do no more business with Thompson or Black.

"I told him that I was worried about his association with Mortimer," he said, "and everybody else's sake—I was afraid it would lead to trouble. He assured me he was through with him."

He had spoken to Forbes as a veteran and in the interest of veterans.

"I mistrusted Mortimer," he said, "and in reply to another question added that he had a trip to the Pacific Coast at that time and wanted to travel with us for company."

Milkken was asked to state the nature of his own duties on the trip. He replied that he was to inspect local offices of the Veterans' Bureau, and added: "Col. Forbes was scheduled to address a convention of disabled veterans in the West and I had been asked to write a speech for him."

The Guthrie Case.

He heard Forbes and Mortimer discussing the Guthrie case and Forbes told Milkken that the boat owned by Thompson had been requisitioned by the Government during the war and inadequate compensation paid. He asked Milkken's opinion and also asked him to suggest a lawyer in Los Angeles

who could take depositions for Thompson.

This testimony afforded corroboration for a vital point in the story told by Mortimer, who said Forbes was active in the matter and was to share in a $100,000 fee if the claim was settled in Thompson's favor.

Milkken also testified that at San Francisco he met Charles Hurley, a contractor, and that James W. Black, Thompson's partner, joined the party. At Spokane, he continued, Forbes and Mortimer handed him a copy of the Colombian contract and asked him to examine it and give his opinion.

This was another important link in which Milkken's testimony bore out Mortimer's.

The Colombian project was one by which Thompson and Black had to secure large concessions in Colombia and in which, according to Mortimer, they offered Forbes a job at $100,000 a year, which he accepted.

TESTIMONY GIVEN IN SUPPORT OF 'FIXER'S' STORY

Witness Tells of Warning Forbes Against Mortimer; Another Describes West Coast Junket.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON. A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—A motion to strike out all the testimony given by Elias H. Mortimer in the government's conspiracy case against former Director Charles R. Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau and John W. Thompson, St. Louis contractor, was made today by Randolph Laughlin, attorney for Thompson. Judge Carpenter not only denied the motion but was so affronted by its language that he declined even to let it be filed.

Part of the testimony, consisting of circumstances described by Mortimer was furnished today by two new witnesses, Edward C. Stockdale, formerly a Colonel in the construction division of the army and later a contracting agent, and John B. Milkken, a lawyer, formerly in the Veterans' Bureau.

When court opened Laughlin presented his motion, consisting of 18 typewritten pages. After Stockdale had been heard, and while Milkken was on the stand, the Judge, who had been reading the motion, announced a recess.

Judge Shows Anger.

After the jury had been taken out, he called the attorneys to the bench and, pale and shaking with anger, he delivered himself.

"I am unwilling to let even the spurring of counsel drive me to prejudice in this case," he said. "The court maintains that it is still neutral. But when I read the motion, I was shocked."

It is charged here that the Court's rulings were erroneous and prejudicial, and that the Court's faith in the infallibility of the government counsel was unduly emphasized to the jury—then I am unwilling to let this motion be filed. It is denied." And to emphasize his feeling about it, he flung his desk and strode to his chambers.

This was the climax of a series of clashes between the Court and defense counsel, in which Laughlin has consistently accused Judge Carpenter's ire.

Stockdale had testified, in the meantime, that he went to Washington in April, 1922, to see if he could get the hospital contract for the Summer-Sollett Co. of Chicago, by whom he was employed.

He said he met Forbes, Mortimer and Mrs. Mortimer at a social gathering at the home of Mrs. St. Louis, who was then in the city.

He told them that he was through with Mortimer and intended to do no more business with Thompson or Black.

"I told him that I was worried about his association with Mortimer," he said, "and everybody else's sake—I was afraid it would lead to trouble. He assured me he was through with him."

He had spoken to Forbes as a veteran and in the interest of veterans.

"I mistrusted Mortimer," he said, "and in reply to another question added that he had a trip to the Pacific Coast at that time and wanted to travel with us for company."

Milkken was asked to state the nature of his own duties on the trip. He replied that he was to inspect local offices of the Veterans' Bureau, and added: "Col. Forbes was scheduled to address a convention of disabled veterans in the West and I had been asked to write a speech for him."

The Guthrie Case.

He heard Forbes and Mortimer discussing the Guthrie case and Forbes told Milkken that the boat owned by Thompson had been requisitioned by the Government during the war and inadequate compensation paid. He asked Milkken's opinion and also asked him to suggest a lawyer in Los Angeles

who could take depositions for Thompson.

This testimony afforded corroboration for a vital point in the story told by Mortimer, who said Forbes was active in the matter and was to share in a $100,000 fee if the claim was settled in Thompson's favor.

Milkken also testified that at San Francisco he met Charles Hurley, a contractor, and that James W. Black, Thompson's partner, joined the party. At Spokane, he continued, Forbes and Mortimer handed him a copy of the Colombian contract and asked him to examine it and give his opinion.

This was another important link in which Milkken's testimony bore out Mortimer's.

The Colombian project was one by which Thompson and Black had to secure large concessions in Colombia and in which, according to Mortimer, they offered Forbes a job at $100,000 a year, which he accepted.

FLAGS TRAIN, PREVENTS WRECK

Engineer Saves Limited—Ex-Convict Confesses Tampering.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—One man, an ex-convict, confessed today that he and his brother plotted to wreck and rob the Nashville Limited train No. 95, just north of Terre Haute, Ind. F. G. Nicholson, vice-president and general manager, disclosed today. The second man involved has not been apprehended, Nicholson said.

Spikes had been drawn from the track, disconnecting an angle bar, the general manager said, and was discovered early yesterday when J. Z. Fairchild of Danville, Ill., engineer of a northbound train, which ran over the spot, realized something was wrong with the track and flagged the limited to a stop.

Case Sidelined's Death.

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 15.—Nineteen of the 42 persons arrested in connection with the murder of Sir Stack have been liberated. The Public Prosecutor considered the evidence against them insufficient and Egyptian law does not provide for "preventive" detention.

Those released included three members of the Chamber of Deputies. It is understood the Ministry of the Interior intends to proceed against one of them, Makrem Bey Obeld, who has been termed by Zaglou's "spiritual son."

The charge will be that Makrem made subversive speeches.

MRS. SWEETIN ON STAND IN FIGHT TO BAR CONFESSION

leaving the ministry. He then said they would have to get rid of their mates and supplied her with poison which she administered to her husband. High priested the funeral sermon, after which Hight said "half the job was done and he wished the other half was over."

When Miss Lewis was asked what Mrs. Sweetin told her about her relations with Hight she was given permission to testify on this point in an undertone in the hearing only of the Judge and lawyers. Mrs. Sweetin went forward and testified upon the witness stand within a few feet of Miss Lewis and listened impassively to the intimate narrative.

The Court then overruled the objection to the statement by the defense and the witness was recalled to tell the jury what Mrs. Sweetin told her.

On cross-examination, Miss Lewis said she asked Mrs. Sweetin if she had conspired with Hight between them, and Mrs. Sweetin told her there had not been Mrs. Sweetin, the witness said, impressed her as being in mental distress, but physically fit.

The witness said, but knew what she was saying.

The jury was again sent out while an inquiry was made into the circumstances under which Mrs. Marshall, relative of the confession, Sheriff Holcomb said Mrs. Sweetin was treated with consideration and was not threatened or promised anything by him, but he did not know if she was or promised.

Hight might have made, Judge Kern brought out by a question that Mrs. Sweetin was kept up and questioned all night before she confessed.

FATHER SLAIN BY VETERAN SON WITH WAR SABER

Ex-Marine, Shell-Shocked, Stabs Parent With Relic
of World Conflict After Roadhouse Party.

"MY BOY IS CRAZY," SAYS DYING MAN

Daughter Sees Bruce Shaw, Chicago Inventor, Killed
by Brother With Whom She Quarreled.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—A controversy between father and son, the latter a shell-shocked war veteran, which came as the climax of a roadhouse wine party in which the son and a daughter participated; the fatal stabbing of the father by the son with a saber, a relic of the World War, and a dying plea of the parent to exonerate his son of blame, was the tragedy that took place in the home of Bruce Shaw, wealthy Oak Park inventor and manufacturer.

Shaw died in a hospital last night of his wounds. George Shaw, 23 years old, is charged with the slaying.

"George is crazy, a shell-shocked war veteran," the elder Shaw told police. "My boy still is suffering from his wounds, and has been in hospitals most of the time since the war."

Mrs. Marie Ayres, the daughter, said George Shaw created a disturbance in her bedroom following the return home from the roadhouse. His sister, she said, attempted to quiet him, and finding his son resentful, started to use force.

"George picked up the saber and thrust the blade into his father's chest," she told police. The father pulled the blade loose and she called a physician, Mrs. Ayres added.

With Mrs. Ayres was a girl companion from Illinois, 21, who had attended the party and who was to remain with her that night. At the roadhouse there were three others in the party. Mrs. Ayres told police they all had been drinking and that she and her brother had quarreled, returning home separately from the resort. George escorted the girl companion home, while Mrs. Ayres came later with another man, she declared.

George Shaw is a veteran of the Marine Corps, and was gassed and wounded in fighting around St. Mihiel. Since the war he has been in many hospitals, and only recently had been discharged from one at the request of the father.

HEARING ON JUDGES' SALARIES
Delegation of Lawyers Before Committee to Urge Increase.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A delegation of lawyers from all parts of the country appeared today before a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee to urge favorable action on a bill to increase judges' salaries. They supported a bill by Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, which would provide that the associate justices of the Supreme Court be paid $20,000 annually. Many other judges would receive proportionate increases.

Attorney-General Stone, speaking for the bill, said that Federal judges should be given a salary that would allow them to live in "modest dignity." Since he assumed office, he said, two judges had resigned on account of insufficient salary.

HANGING 'WOULD SPOIL XMAS'
Minister and Others Support Kahl's Reprieve Plea.

By The Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 15.—That the hanging in Carlinville, Dec. 22, of Lester Kahl, wife murderer, would "spoil Christmas for the people, a petition was filed at the office of Gov. Len Small today, asking for a reprieve until Jan. 30. In making this request the lawyers for Kahl announced they were seeking commutation of the death sentence.

Only once before in its history did Carlinville have an official hanging, so there is no outspoken opposition to Kahl's appeal for the reprieve. One of the Carlinville residents who supports the condemned man in his plea for reprieve and commutation is the Lutheran minister here.

PLANS BILL FOR POLICE FORCE IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Senator Ralph's Measure Would Tax Roadhouses
for Part of Funds for Body.

A police system for St. Louis County, under control of the State Government, supported in part from funds derived from the licensing of roadhouses, will be provided for in a bill being drawn by Senator Richard F. Ralph of Valley Park, for introduction in the Missouri Legislature soon after it convenes Jan. 7 in Jefferson City.

Ralph yesterday said that, in preparing his measure, he would examine carefully a bill for county police drawn in 1935 by Circuit Judge McElhinney and introduced by A. E. L. Gardner, Ralph's predecessor in the Senate. The McElhinney bill encountered opposition and was not pushed vigorously.

The question of obtaining sufficient funds for an adequate police system for the county without a burdensome tax was said by Senator Ralph to be the principal stumbling block in working out a bill. He said that, while the proposed measure would place roadhouses under supervision of a board of police commissioners, appointed by the Governor, and while they would be licensed for a fee, he did not believe that source of revenue would be nearly sufficient to support a police department of the size required.

No Longer Rural.
"With its rapid growth St. Louis County has ceased to be a rural community," Senator Ralph said. "Many of its roads have traffic equal to many city streets. The Sheriff, of course, cannot patrol these roads with his limited force of deputies, and that means that the person using the roads has no protection."

With the continued improvement of roads, the opportunity for the escape of criminals will increase, until it will not be long until the resident of the county will be in constant danger from criminals who, after the commission of a crime, will be able to quickly gain the protection of the crowded city.

Then the constantly increasing number of roadhouses is becoming a serious problem in the county. There are roadhouses which are conducted in an orderly manner, but there are many which are not. One sees hundreds of automobiles parked in the neighborhood of some of these places at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning. Of course, that number of persons are not merely eating chicken dinners.

"It is my idea to have these roadhouses licensed by the Board of Police Commissioners the Governor would name. Their licenses could be revoked for misconduct just as saloon licenses were revoked under the old excise law."

The situation might be handled to some extent by a state constabulary, but I doubt that it would be possible to obtain legislative approval of a state police bill. I do believe we would have difficulty in getting a bill through for county police."

Wants Adequate Force.
"The number of patrolmen required is a matter for study. We want an adequate force, but we do not want one so big that its cost of maintenance would be burdensome. I expect to confer with Judge McElhinney, who has given the subject considerable thought, and with others who should have constructive ideas."

"We want St. Louis County to be a safe place in which to live. The vast majority of its citizens are law-abiding. The perpetrators of the more serious crimes come out from the city and get back into the city. There have been many crimes in the county by city criminals within the past year or so, and we should take the steps now to make possible the apprehension of these criminals before the situation gets worse."

Senator Ralph first publicly advocated the creation of a county police force at the annual dinner of the St. Louis County Real Estate Board at the Kirkwood Country Club last Wednesday evening. The Clean Election League recently sent out a number of questionnaires seeking the view of St. Louis County citizens on the question of the creation of a county police force.

KILLED GIRL WHO HAD INVITED HIS WIFE OUT

Atlanta Telegraph Operator Fired Five Shots at Victim From Behind.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 15.—His tearful hysteria of Saturday night replaced by a stoical demeanor Claude A. Roark, 33-year-old telegrapher, refused to discuss with officers or newspapermen today the reasons for his firing five pistol bullets into the back of Miss Vena Moore, 21-year-old operator, Saturday night, as she sat at her keyboard in the main operating room of the Western Union Telegraph Co. on the tenth floor of the Brown Building here. The body of Miss Moore, who died before she could be taken to a hospital, was buried today.

The five shots which ended Miss Moore's life precipitated a scene of confusion in the telegraph operating room, where more than 60 girls were on duty at the time. Several fainting and others became violently hysterical. After firing the fatal shots, Roark calmly put his revolver—purchased a few minutes before at a pawn shop—in his pocket, and said to W. C. Hair, night chief operator, who rushed to the dying girl's side: "I did it—send for the police."

Wife's Statement.

His wife, Mrs. Alice McLendon Roark, to whom he was married two months ago and who also is an employee in the same office where he and Miss Moore worked, left her instrument and went to his side, sobbing hysterically on his shoulder, Hair said. Roark, however, maintained his unmoved demeanor until he reached the police station—where he flung himself upon the concrete floor of his cell and sobbed out again and again: "I have tried all my life to make a man of myself."

Mrs. Roark, who was taken to police headquarters with her husband to be questioned, said that her husband was of a jealous disposition and was much opposed to her associating with Miss Moore. "After the shooting, my husband came to me and told me that Miss Moore had said she was going to ruin my life," Mrs. Roark said in her formal statement to the police. "He said he could not bear such a thing to happen. A few minutes later, my husband came and told me that Miss Moore was planning to take me out to spend the night with her. He said she told him we were going to a roadhouse. My husband told me Miss Moore was running him crazy. He said Miss Moore did not want us to marry and that she had told him she would get revenge some time. Didn't Own a Pistol.

"I had no idea he was going to shoot her. He did not own a pistol and must have bought one when he went out shortly before the shooting."

"I was married to Roark on Oct. 14, 1924, after knowing him about a year. Miss Moore and I had worked for the Western Union for some time. Prior to our marriage my mother had objected to my going around with Miss Moore and also after my marriage to Mr. Roark."

"However, I had been with her a few times, but only twice since I have been married. On both of these occasions, we went to the theater."

"Tonight Miss Moore asked me to spend the night with her. I told her I could not and that I had to look after my children, Miller Frances McLendon and Claud Hendrix Roark."

Mrs. Roark explained that both she and Roark had been married previously.

SLAPPED BY WOMAN, THEN FINED IN COURT

Youthful Annoyer of Street Car Passenger Prosecuted Despite Absence of Complainant.

Whether Miss Helen Cook decided that George Page had been punished enough by the severe slapping she administered Saturday night, or whether she decided an 18-year-old youth who annoys a woman street car passenger is not worth prosecuting, is undecided. At any rate, she failed to appear today in police court where Page, sober and repentant after a night in Carr street holdover, was waiting with the hope that the peace disturbance charge against him would be dismissed for want of prosecution.

But there were plenty of champions who wanted to see Page punished as an example to the entire race of street-car "mashers." A United Railways attorney, for one, told him he would either plead guilty or be prosecuted by the company, and Page threw himself on the mercy of the court.

Judge Matthews was a bit merciful. "I will fine you $10," he said, "for the sake of the example it will be to the thousands of men who annoy young women on cars. Bear in mind that if Miss Cook had appeared, the fine would have been at least twice as much."

Page, who lives at 1918 Morgan street, was arrested on a Wellston car at Eighteenth street and Franklin avenue Saturday night on the complaint of Miss Cook, who is 24 years old, a night waitress, and a divorcee with a 2-year-old son. She said that he and a companion sat behind her, made improper remarks and poked at her with a stick until she rose in her wrath and soundly slapped Page's face. Page was taken to Carr Street Station, his nose bleeding, where he was held until bond was furnished.

While he waited in police court for Miss Cook to appear, Page gave his version of the fight to a reporter. "My friend was the one who really annoyed her," he confided. "It is true we had both been drinking more than we should, but I had sense enough to shut up, while he kept on talking to her and slapping her on the shoulder. I guess, though, I was just as much to blame as he was."

Hotel Bell Captain Arrested.

Federal prohibition agents under Group Chief Goshorn Saturday arrested Harry Delgman, bell captain at a downtown hotel, on a charge of selling liquor. Goshorn said that his men had registered at the hotel seven times and that they had bought whiskey from the bell-boys each time. Delgman was released on a $2000 bond.

CHURCHILL'S BEHIND BRITISH FUNDING OF

Press of the Country A Chancellor of Exch
Little Chance to I

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON,
London Correspondent of the Post-
Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The international debt question has eclipsed all others here throughout the past week.

The ball set rolling by the Washington conversations between France and the United States and the speech of Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in which he said Great Britain would expect to be paid at the same time
as the United States, has aroused the British nation as no financial issue has in years. The New York World and Post-Dispatch are able to explain authoritatively the policy which the Chancellor now is seeking to impose on his Cabinet colleagues and which—if he can gain their assent—he proposes to press on the allies at the reparation conference in Paris next month.

Although Washington has explained, in reply to British Ambassador Sir Esme Howard's inquiry, that the Franco-American discussion was informal and that no
terms were discussed and although
Paris dispatches make it clear
French opinion is unwilling to fund
the foreign debt while the amount recoverable from German reparations is uncertain, the agitation continues here. Important political forces in all the parties, headed
by Churchill, have seized the pre-
text of French Ambassador Jusserand's talks to reopen the whole subject and they do not intend to
let it drop.

Churchill Seizes Opportunity.

Premier Baldwin, who funded the American debt, and Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain at first opposed Churchill, arguing it would
be unwise to press France and Italy
since no cash is likely to be forthcoming; but overwhelming and almost universal support for Churchill has swept the other Ministers
off their feet, and the Chancellor appears likely to obtain full control of a policy which, while it may not get Great Britain a franc from France or a lira from Italy or the
remission of a dollar from the United States, within a year or less
may well sweep Baldwin out of the premiership and install Churchill
in his place.

Possibly the disastrous effect of Churchill's policy on Baldwin's fortunes will become evident when
that policy is explained. Churchill
proposes next month to suggest to France the revival of the old
scheme for military guarantees,
conditional on France's funding her
debt to Britain on favorable terms.

Italy also will be asked to prepare to make payments, and while nations will be told that, while
Great Britain regards German repara-
tions as a doubtful asset, such payments as Germany receives from France and Italy will be deducted from the French and Italian obligations to Britain under the Balfour note policy.

France and Italy will be asked to assume the responsibility
of meeting the whole British debt
charge to the United States, but will be told that if and when the United States reduces Britain's liabilities, Britain's creditors will profit to the same extent, and in addition German payments will be charged off as Britain seeks only
to obtain from reparations, and
from the £2,000,000,000 owed her
abroad, sufficient to pay the £1-000,000,000 she owes the United States.

Churchill does not expect these
proposals to be accepted, especially as the present Government
here, like its predecessor, will refuse—as the French have all along
demanded—to include a guarantee
of the Polish frontiers against aggression in the guarantee offered France.

Churchill, I understand, wishes
to make his proposals in public
on the ground that the League of Nations must be informed of any
suggested regional understanding.

His eye is on British public opinion, for this whole gesture is, in a sense, a play to the gallery at home
and abroad.

Would Widen His Power.
With unparalleled taxation and
profound commercial depression,
we had still 2,000,000 unemployed
and those at work were on low wages.

It was in these circumstances
that America called on us, alone
among nations, to pay regardless of
other conditions and while Germany was still escaping her broad obligations. Practically it was a hard request in its social effect on this side. Considering our burdens and embarrasments of all kinds it was even a grinding request.

But now there is another development. It may mean a still more painful and prostrating phase of the whole miserable question. With out reference to us, negotiation
have been opened between Paris
and Washington.

What has stirred all parties in
this country to the heart as last
week's debate in the House of Com-

CHURCHILL'S AMBITIONS BEHIND BRITISH STIR OVER FUNDING OF ALLIED DEBT

Press of the Country Almost a Unit Behind Chancellor of Exchequer Who Has Little Chance to Increase Income.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON,
London Correspondent of the Post-
Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1924.)

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The inter-
national debt question has eclipsed all other issues in the British press and has been the subject of the most vehement discussion in the House of Commons since the outbreak of the war. The bill set rolling by the Washington conversations between France and the United States and the speech of Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in which he said that Great Britain would be paid at the same time as the United States, has aroused a British nation which has no financial troubles in years. The New York World and Post-Dispatch are able to explain authoritatively the position which the Chancellor now is taking to impose on his Cabinet
colleagues and which—if he can
gain their assent—he proposes to
press on the allies at the reparations conference in Paris next month.

Although Washington has explained, in reply to British Ambassa-

the Franco-American discussion was informal and that no
terms were discussed and although
Paris dispatches make it clear

by Churchill, have seized the pre-
text of French Ambassador Jusse-rault's talks to reopen the whole subject and they do not intend to

Churchill Sees Opportunity.

Premier Baldwin, who funded the American debt, and Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain at first opposed Churchill, arguing it would
be unwise to press France and Italy
into cashing in on the war. But Churchill, by overwhelming and almost universal support for Church-
ill has swept the other Ministers
off their feet, and the Chancellor seems likely to prevail. He has not yet got Great Britain a franc from France or a lira from Italy or the
remission of a dollar from the United States, within a year or less
he will sweep Baldwin and Chamberlain from office and install Churchill in his place.

Possibly the disastrous effect of Churchill's policy on Baldwin's fortunes will become evident when
proposes next month to suggest to France the revival of the old
scheme for military guarantees,
conditional on France's funding her
debt to Britain on favorable terms.
Italy also will be asked to make payments to Britain, and both
nations will be told that, while
Great Britain regards German repara-
tions as a doubtful asset, such payments as Britain receives from Germany will be deducted from the French and Italian obligations to Britain under the Balfour note policy. France and Italy will be asked to assume the responsibility
of meeting the whole British debt
share to the United States. It will be told that if and when the United States reduces Britain's liabilities, Britain's creditors will
profit to the same extent, and in addition German payments will be
charged off as Britain seeks only
to obtain from reparations and
from the £2,000,000,000 owed her
abroad, sufficient to pay the £1-000,000,000 she owes the United States.

Churchill does not expect these
proposals to be accepted, especially as the present Government
here, like its predecessor, will refuse—as the French have all along
of the Polish frontiers against ap-provision in the guarantee offered France.

Churchill, I understand, wishes
to make his proposals in public
on the ground that the League of Nations must be informed of any
suggested regional understanding.
His eye is on British public opinion, for this whole gesture is, in a
sense, a play to the gallery at home
and abroad.

Would Widen His Power.
With unparalleled power and
profound commercial depression,
we had still 2,000,000 unemployed
and those at work were on low
wages.

"It was in these circumstances
that America called on us, at one
among nations, to pay regardless of
other conditions and while Ger-
many was still escaping her broad
obligations. Practically it was a
hard request in its social effect on
this side. Considering our burdens and embarrassments of all kinds it was even a grinding request."

But now there is another development. It may mean a still more painful and penalizing phase of the whole miserable question. Without reference to us, negotiations
have been opened between Paris
and Washington.

"What has stirred all parties in
this country to the heart, as last
week's debate in the House of Commons showed, is the suggestion that France might compound her debt to the United States on especially favorable terms and then leave us altogether in the lurch.

"If that were done, the situation
for this country and its people would become one of such signal inequality and substantial wrong that it could only be described in the most sounding terms or ruder vernacular, but not in any language we are able to use in these columns.

Assuming, then, that Churchill's efforts to wring money from France and Italy fail, and that the United States has under way negotiations for funding with Paris and Rome which involve—as they must
if they succeed—a practical moratorium
of considerable duration, and that the United States refuses to revise her terms to Britain, Baldwin almost certainly would be the scapegoat, and he would be succeeded either by Churchill himself or by Austen Chamberlain, should Chamberlain's expected conversation to Churchill's policy take place.

Baldwin's responsibility for Britain's present plight will be dinned into the ears of Parliament and the country from now on by the Beaverbrook and Rothermere press and by Lloyd George, Snowden and other opposition orators in the House, and with such allies
at his back, Churchill seems to have picked an issue and a policy which will advance his own fortunes even if they do not produce cash.

Much Praise for Churchill.

There is hardly a dissenting voice in the great chorus of praise for Churchill and the demand for action now is swelling throughout the whole British press. A three-column article in this morning's Observer by the prominent Tory editor, J. L. Garvin, expresses forcefully an attitude which may be described as national rather than political.

Garvin first hails the British financial achievements in the war
before the entry of America:
"For almost three years the money of this single island flowed
like a gulf stream on the allies'—
without that aid our sea-power by itself an enormous charge—our continental partners
one and all would have collapsed in the first 12 months. For this war, with its vast expenditure, but
alone among the European nations we taxed ourselves to the limit while we fought. No historian
of any country denies that British
finance was nothing less than heroic in practice and effect. It
was an epic of moral valor."

"It was understood in good faith that the European allies would face equal taxation after the war and would repay that part of the cost of the victory which they had really borrowed from individual British citizens. It never occurred to us to imagine that after the war, with its vast expenditure, but
alone among the European nations we taxed ourselves to the limit while we fought. No historian
of any country denies that British
finance was nothing less than
was an epic of moral valor."

Garvin then describes how, when Britain, in the words of Ambassador Page, was faced with the United States took up the burden, "coming in fresh and sure with wealth three times larger than this country ever possessed,"
and cities figures by Harvey Plisk showing that at the armistice the war had cost Britain, in dollars per capita of population $24.85;
France $20.20, the United States
$17.91, representing in percentage of national income for Britain, 34.4 per cent; France, 19.26
per cent, and the United States, 8.67 per cent.

"After the armistice, when Britain owed £1,000,000,000 abroad
and was owed £2,000,000,000," he says, "began the ironies and the wretched British taxpayer was taught the humor of the rack."

"After spending nearly as much per capita for common victory as any other three of our partners—
including America—put together,
we found ourselves in surplusary danger of being singled out by the other victors for financial penalization."

Woes of Great Britain.

ropean nations continued their debauch of borrowing, this country adopted crushing taxation, bandaged its budget at all costs, and endeavored to look like the dollar in the face at any risk of economic eye-strain."

Churchill personally—although he claims the treasury must now be given complete control of the debts—has no authority to suggest a Franco-British pact or political concessions in Italy, Germany or elsewhere, without the consent of Foreign Minister Chamberlain and the Cabinet. But he intends to press for this authority.
Churchill's policy toward Brit-

Adventures of Round-the-World Flyers FISHING, BOOKS AND BATH, 'LUXURIES' FOUND ON ATTU

Airmen Wait on Tip of Western Hemisphere for Favorable Weather That Will Permit Flight to Siberia.

By LOWELL THOMAS.
(Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune
Newspapers Syndicate and the McClure Newspapers Syndicate.)

"DURING our first days away out here on the island of Attu, the most westerly bit of land connected with the American continent, we have been living on board the little Bureau of Fisheries boat, the Elder," wrote
"Smiling Jack" Harding in his diary. "Three of the officers, including Capt. Paul Beck, have turned their backs over to Smith, Nelson and Waq, while the other three of us have been sleeping down in the fo'c'sle."

"Saturday, May 10.—These Aleutian Islands can surely boast of fully 98 per cent atrocious weather.
Since we have been down here, life has just been one round of getting soaked and then getting thawed
out, and so on ad infinitum."

"Here in Attu when the barometer starts to fall, it frequently goes away down to 8.45, the lowest I have ever seen it. Our old friends, the willie-waws, have been performing for us again today and, if anything, they have been the worst that we have ever seen them. And that's saying a lot. They made the sea so rough this morning that we couldn't even balance ourselves
on our planes and we had to huddle
about the Elder. Here on Capt.
Beck's steamer we were only about 100 yards from the planes. Each time a willie-waw hit us, the little Elder reared way over. And each time this happened, we all rushed to the portholes expecting to see at least one of the planes blown away. Donald Douglas certainly did a marvelous job when he built these world flyers. When the williewaw hits them, instead of hopping up and down as you would expect them to do, they simply seem to push their noses into the wind and hold on tight to the waves."

News of Martin and Harvey.

"May 11.—While doing this morning, I heard some of the members of the crew of the Elder conversing in low tones about the Major and Harvey having been found. For a time I thought I was dreaming. But when it dawned on me that what I heard was real,
I leaped out of my bunk with a bound. It seemed almost too good to be true. But the boys told me that Ernest Moller had broadcasted
the sudden arrival of the lost crew of the Seattle last night, that the Haida had caught the message and tried to relay it to us, and that they had only succeeded in picking up memorandum remains the only message he had."

"What it lays down in effect is that we are willing to strike off
as a bad debt half of our own huge loans. We will bear that ourselves.
Europe as America demands from us and, like Luther, we can do no other."

CALLES GIVEN EXTRAORDINARY POWERS ON STATE FINANCES

Grant Made for Next Year Owing to Lack of Funds for Discussion in Chamber.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 15.—President Calles has been granted by Congress extraordinary powers on financial matters from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1925, owing to lack of time to end the budget discussion in the Chamber before the closing session on Dec. 31, next.

President Calles will make a financial report to Congress on Aug. 31, 1925, when the new session will open.
It is semi-officially stated that Alfonso Reyes, Charge d'Affaires
in Madrid, will be appointed Minister to France; that Rafael Nieto, former Minister of Finance, will be named Minister to Italy, and that Luis Cabrera, who also is a former Minister of Finance, will go to Belgium to take the post of Minister there.

The possibility of the appointment of Manuel Pellez to be Ambassador to Washington is being discussed.

TOWERS OF INSPIRATION

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 15.—Art can flourish only in idealistic surroundings in the opinion of man-icipal officials of many German cities who are permitting the poets, composers and painters to use historic and attractive public buildings and studios for homes.
Frankfurt has assigned Cow-herds Tower, a middle ages structure, to Paul Hindemith, one of Germany's best young composers, and Fritz von Unruh, novelist and poet, has been assigned the Renten-tower, which forms part of the old city's fortifications.

As regards Europe the Balfour

Japanese Welcoming the American Flyers

The Elder at 5 o'clock this morning. Well, it's great news and we are all mighty relieved.

"Not only is Attu the uttermost point of America, an island way out here on the edge of nothing,
but its inhabitants are of the lowest breed of human life belonging to North America. The population of Attu is exactly 52. The Aleuts of the day we arrived there was no
one here in Chigof excepting 24
women and girls and one crochety old patriarch. Leigh being the only one of the party, we have renamed the town 'Wade's Paradise,'
in his honor."

"The harbor is well sheltered with mountains all around it, excepting the north. The water is dirt and sod and sort of half domed shape. Each barraboo has one lone window and from six to eight people live down there in a space about 8 by 10 feet. Here they cook, eat and sleep, and each of these Aleut caves, designed to protect the inhabitants from the willie-waws, is absolutely airtight."

Find a Library.

"After the Elder left Attu to take up a position midway between here and the nearest islands off the coast of Asia, from where she can send us weather reports, we moved ashore to Shroeder's house and were delighted to find an excellent library. Our revenue cutter friends from the Haida have just come in and set up a portable radio outfit.
The poles are on a hill near by and the wires have been run right down here to the trading post. Although with this outfit we can only send messages for a couple of hundred miles, we can receive from a much longer distance."

"Since the Elder left, another great storm has swept down upon us, a storm of such tremendous velocity that it has blown the Haida way out to sea. We were in touch with her by radio all the time and Lee Baker, the Haida's radio officer, radioed us that the wind was blowing at the rate of 60 miles an hour. The Haida has had a bad time of it during this gale, so we can imagine what the little Elder has been going through away out midway between here and the Kuriles."

"Here in this region, where the weather is nearly always unde-scribably bad," says Lieut. Smith,
"I hardly know what we would have done without our weather wizard, Maj. William R. Blair of the signal corps, who has been living up here on the Elder simply in order that we might proceed
from point to point with the minimum of danger and delay. Maj.
Blair certainly deserves his reputation as one of the foremost meteorologists in the world."

Leslie Arnold's diary tells how it continued to snow and storm up until May 14, when it cleared long enough in the afternoon to give the world flyers an opportunity of going fishing. They found great schools of mackerel and black cod
in the harbor.

"Why, we didn't even have to bait our hooks," he writes. "All
we had to do was simply drop a line overboard with a hook on the end of it and jerk it up quickly.
Invariably we would find that we had hooked a fish through the eye,
the tail or a fin."

"A press correspondent on board the Haida has just radioed his office in Seattle the thrilling news that tonight the world flyers are going to be given a treat on board
the Haida, in the form of a bath.
He said that he didn't dare mention how long it had been since we had had the last one. But we are celebrating tonight because the weather looks clear, and tomorrow
there should be a good chance of our at last hopping off for Siberia."

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

MAYFIELD CASE LIKE NEWBERRY'S, SAYS BRIEF

Attorneys for George B.
Peddy, Contesting Tex-
an's Seat, Charge Unlawful Expenditures.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS NOT REPORTED

Ku Klux Klan and Anti-Saloon League Accused of Spending Money to Elect Mayfield.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Charging that more money was spent by the Ku Klux Klan and other influences, including the Anti-Saloon League, to elect Earle B. Mayfield to the Senate than was expended in the notorious Newberry case and that the election was characterized by perjury, intimidation of voters
and other lawless acts, attorneys for George B. Peddy, who is contesting Mayfield's seat, have prepared a brief that may force the Senate to oust the Texan.

"Bristling with charges, assembled and codified for the first time since hearings began before the subcommittee on Privileges and Elections,
the brief forms an impressive document. Peddy's counsel, Luther B.
Nickels, expects the summary to drive the Mayfield issue to the floor of the Senate if the investigation committee should seek to smother
it."

The committee, headed by Senator Spencer of Missouri, will meet Thursday to decide whether to take further evidence and push the case to the end or whether the lid shall be clamped down and the case disposed of as quickly as possible.

Charges Not Refuted.

An advance copy of the Peddy brief, obtained by the Post-Dispatch, begins by stressing the significant fact that none of the charges have been refuted by Mayfield, that not a single witness has been found to defend Mayfield or deny the corruption alleged, and that the uncontroverted evidence when assembled must compel Mayfield's expulsion.

Peddy's friends do not charge
that the Spencer committee is dominated by Klan influence, but they insist that if for any reason an effort is made to ignore or belittle
the proof the whole issue will be shifted to the floor of the Senate.
Assurances have been obtained, according to Peddy, that several Senators, Republicans and Democrats, will not permit the issue to be brushed aside, but will open fire in the Senate to see the case through to its logical end.

The Peddy brief, not yet issued by the committee but already in print form as a Senate document, sums up the case under a series of headings which itemize the charges and evidence.

Case Against Mayfield.

These charges, which Mayfield has made no attempt to disprove
before the committee are briefly:
That where the Texas law permits but $10,000 to be spent there is no limit on the amount of money used in Mr. Mayfield's behalf even exceeds that charged against Senator Newberry."

That while Mayfield admitted in sworn statements required by law that approximately $11,000 was spent in his behalf, the proof, already produced shows the real amount was upwards of $180,000. That Mayfield admitted to his assistant,
Michael McNamara, on the Texas Railroad Commission, that more than $80,000 had been spent prior to May, 1922.

That "no effort was made to comply with the law, and that as an example nearly $15,000 spent in Wichita and Harris counties was never reported."

That Mayfield simply proposed
"deliberate violation and misuse of their power (when in the record for the purpose of) to compel financial and political support" largely from oil interests dependent upon the commission's good will.

That the "Dallas County Mayfield Club" and the "Adolphus Hotel" enterprises launched on Mayfield's behalf, engaged in "unlawful activities," and that "upward of $30,000 to $50,000 was unlawfully expended in one county" by these political groups for Mayfield.

That the "Georgia corporation," otherwise the Ku Klux Klan, employed "its corporate franchises and powers, derived from another state and $30,000 to $100,000 of its funds to enforce its declared purpose that Mr. Mayfield carry its banner to Washington and plant it in the Senate."

That the Anti-Saloon League with headquarters in Ohio joined the campaign in backing Mayfield, issuing circulars, appeals and other matter, involving an expenditure of "several thousand dollars" the exact amount being undetermined.

HERRIOT IMPRESSED BY HIGHWAYS OF AMERICA AND HANDLING OF TRAFFIC

Asserts U. S. System of Directing Travel on Streets and Highways Far Surpasses
That in Vogue in France.

By EDOUARD HERRIOT,
Premier of France.
No. V.

PARIS.—The city and the State are organized like a store or a factory.

From the benefits which they offer to the citizens I must choose one example—I'll take that of street traffic. "There are three elements," said a wise man, "which make up the greatness of a nation—
a fertile soil, active factories and good roads." Assuredly the road and street are a means of work.
They are tools. We have ourselves
a well-earned reputation in the matter of good roads.

The United States is intensely devoted to this problem. It is especially active in developing concrete roads.

The first cement concrete roadway was built about 1892, along the public square of Bellefontaine in the State of Ohio. Even though subjected to heavy traffic during 23
years, with few repairs, it is today
in very good condition. In 1921,
the United States had already laid 519,000 square meters of concrete road. No patent had been taken out for the process of construction. Local engineers have been able to observe, to collaborate and to perfect the establisment of a technique today practically standardized.

Always the same process—experiment, and research leading to a new theory. Laboratories were constructed, to study, for example, the proportion of water to be mixed with the concrete, and its reinforcement with metal. All details—the nature of the mixture, the elimination of bubbles, the exclusion of impurities and organic matter, the construction of joints—were examined separately.

New Sciences Born.

We encounter anew the method of Taylorization. Taylor gave the example in analyzing the elements
necessary to make a good tennis court. The American Society for Testing Materials has standardized
the rules by which a cement preparation should be subjected. For this sort of test there are no less than 100 trial laboratories. The formulae of cement mixtures are included in contracts for construction.

So are new sciences born, precise, minute, constantly experimenting. Chemists supervise in the quarries the quality of sand destined to be used in sheet asphalt. Rigorous measures are taken to avoid the formation of dust. The State of Maryland has made a special study of the problem of roads made of sea-shells.

The same progress with tramways, almost all of them electric.
At the present hour, in the whole length of the United States there are only the cities of Seattle and San Francisco in which one can still see cable-drawn tramways. In general, the quality of the place
rapid transit lines in the center of the streets. There is a tendency to put the rails on special platforms which at once permit
increase of speed and at the same time assure security.

Problem of Street Traffic.

Let us take up first the problem of street traffic, which is becoming so serious in our own large cities, especially in Paris, and which so preoccupies the United States. It has not been enough for our friends to devise admirable equipment for making and maintaining roads—rolling and grading machines, drills for breaking up stonework, mechanical loading machines, steam shovels, cable carriers, caterpillar tractors, special apparatus for rock excavation,
stone crushers.

They have tried to regulate traffic on the roads as well and, to tell the truth, this obligation imposes itself on them more imperiously than it does on us in France. In 1904, the United States produced 411 motor trucks and 21-281 light vehicles. It launched in 1921, 1,823,158 light cars and 322-029 trucks. In the same year it licensed 10,444,632 motor cars (one car for each five persons in California).

The country was forced then not only to improve and develop roads but to modify the tracks. From this point of view one can consider as a model the Coleman automobile road which goes from the City of Wilmington, Del., to the Maryland boundary. In the traversing of villages, the elimination of curves and the reduction of grades this road is now a special study.

Question Concerns Everybody.

It was found necessary to regulate traffic and it was done. The dimensions and weight of the vehicles, the wind of the loading, the lighting, the brakes, rules for crossing and passing—all of these questions have been the objects of close study. The practice of directing traffic by means of white lines traced on the pavement
is becoming more and more general. The most severe restrictions are imposed for public squares. In New York luminous signals open and close the route in order to facilitate cross-town traffic.

These are only indications. Those interested in such problems can find further details. But the question concerns everybody and especially the pedestrian, the martyr of modern times. In this kind of research, the United States by the application of its industrial methods has far surpassed us.

Taking Out the "Kinks."

I well understand that this generalization of the industrial formula is susceptible to any jest.
Around the edges of its application this industrialization takes the most surprising form. There are many examples. When I was told that a negro had made a fortune
by inventing a process for straightening the curly hair of negroes, I took it for a joke. In the style of Mark Twain. But the story was true and the woman exists. Our excellent Capt. Mauras received her on the steamer Paris.
On reflection the astonishing thing
was that her process, differently employed should not have served to curl the hair of white people.

In the suburbs of Cleveland the most amiable and the most popular in France of American diplomats received me at what he called his "farm." He introduced me to his grandson, an admirable child,
frank in appearance and vigorous.
This boy had found a school which was teaching him boxing by correspondence.

Boxing by correspondence! One would better reflect over it than sneer.

Unable to prolong these studies
on the mechanism of industrial and commercial production, we are now able to ask ourselves if in the ensemble American technique represents a progress beyond our European technique, a more advanced science, a better developed professional education.

DRAMA

"Sakura," With Walker Whitehead, Is Two Weeks Old and Feeble for Its Age.

THE CAST: Carl Voss, Pauline Jennings, Sydney Shields, Harold Vosburg, David Beltracchi, Edward Harford, Walker Whitehead, Brandon Evans, Genevieve Bertolacci, Carlos Curli, and Hemmerich.

Mr. and Mrs. August Anheuser of Germany and their two young sons are visiting relatives in St. Louis. They are at Hotel Chase. Mrs. Anheuser, before her marriage, was Miss Stella Nicolaus. She is the daughter of Henry Nicolaus and a sister of Louis Nicolaus. Mr. Anheuser is a cousin of Mr. Eberhard Anheuser. They will remain until about Jan. 15 and are being much entertained. Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Eberhard Anheuser gave a dinner for them, at which the additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. August A. Busch, Mr. and Mrs. Adalbert von Gontard, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Stannard, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krausnick, Mrs. Odille Krausnick and Mrs. William J. Lohm. The same group and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Steinwender and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nicolaus were entertained at dinner at Bevo Mill by Mrs. Krausnick last week in honor of the visitors, and a number of similar affairs have been planned. This is the first visit of Mr. and Mrs. Anheuser to this country for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eberhard Anheuser of 3003 Allen avenue will depart Jan. 18 for their annual visit to Palm Beach, Fla. They will remain until the end of the resort season.

German Lover Goes Crazy. According to the story, Onda Sada, a Japanese maiden, has spent four years at school in America. There she was the heart of the German Ambassador to Japan, and the youth followed her to Tokyo. He breaks her comb in two, forces her to marry him, and tells her that, according to this Japanese custom, she is pledged to him through life and death.

On landing, the girl is informed that she is to marry the mighty Prince Sanatomo Hagane, "righter and left hand of the Emperor." She instantly forgets Occidental romance and scound off her Christianity, which she has been permitted to embrace only that she may learn to despise the gross superstitions of the foreign devils. She loses her few wits and prowls about with a revolver, and with threats against the Prince's life. It is the wedding night at Prince Hagane's villa. Fritz steals into Onda Sada's apartment, and the girl conceals him in an adjacent room, with only a paper screen to shield her beloved husband against an armed and jealous man. The Prince comes to his wife and proceeds to such extremities as to marry her to the Japanese Emperor. Some of the Senator's opponents declare that these proposals inspired by Moscow. Yet in Great Britain, no act of Parliament can be vetoed by the House of Commons. In Canada, despite the recent precedent by the overruling of Parliament by the Railway Commission, the Federal Parliament, sublimely conscious of its power, is not about to declare that these proposals inspired by Moscow. In Canada, despite the recent precedent by the overruling of Parliament by the Railway Commission, the Federal Parliament, sublimely conscious of its power, is not about to declare that these proposals inspired by Moscow.

Steals the P-p-papers! We must relate that it is Germany and not California which is responsible for ill-feeling between the United States and the British Empire. This is the story of the Senator's opponents who have followed the machinations of Berlin by signing a treaty with the American Ambassador, Septimus Hagane, one of those short-sleeved diplomats who, like the yoki abroad for their country. The German Ambassador appears in the third act and brings atmosphere with him by clicking his heels and bowing, and guttural replies to all remarks with "Ja" and "Guten" and "Donner." He and his nephew constitute the most lamentable pair of comic characters ever seen on a melodrama stock company.

A Machiavellian Ruse. The Prince delicately informs Fritz that, unless he returns the papers Onda Sada will be condemned to a bagno. But if the papers are surrendered, the German will take her and begone—that is, the body, as Hagane craftily interprets. The exchange is to be made in the garden of the American Embassy. The German Ambassador appears, with complete sangfroid, and witnesses a negotiation which will wreck the Government's entire Pacific policy. Hagane wheels in a cart, and recovers from the shock. Then he throws back the veil. Onda Sada reclines lifeless, with a dagger protruding from her midriff. "You are my body," the Prince chortles with oriental glee. "Take me away from this yellow land of death!" she cries. Fritz, and reels away on his uncle's arm. As soon as he has gone, Onda Sada opens her eyes, removes the dagger from its sheath in her sash, and drops it into her husband's arms. Was that a nice trick, we

Social News

THE Imperial has invited only two of this season's debutantes to become members, and to attend the ball to be given at the St. Louis Club Jan. 16. The young women honored are Miss Jessie Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Carr of Vandeventer place, and Miss Virginia Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Welch Simmons of New York, formerly of St. Louis, who made her debut here as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Parsons. Each year the Imperial is an exclusive club organized many years ago by a group of social leaders, and gives one ball a year.

EX-DUCHESS GREETED AS RUSSIAN CZARINA

"Nobles," Soldiers and Workers Sing Hymns to Her at New York Reception.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The devotion of Russian royalists in New York was poured out yesterday at the Hotel Plaza for the former Grand Duchess Cyril. Three hundred Russians hailed her as their czarina and sang hymns to her. The tribute came between a luncheon given by Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and a dinner by Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Tickets were issued by an all-Russian arrangements committee, representing local associations of nobles, officers and laborers. An all-Russian, all-royalist audience filled the small salon with eager conversation. Then Boris Brasol, former Grand Duke Cyril's representative in America announced: "The czarina is ascending the elevator." Around the elevator they formed in a semicircle and waited at rigid attention. When the elevator door opened the former Grand Duchess stepped forward and halted in the center of the semicircle. The orchestra began the hymn which is kept for the visible presence of the czar or the czarina. "Hail to the Russian Czar," and continued into the Russian national anthem, "God Bless Our Czar," and the men began to sing.

The small room quivered with the sonorous sound of deep voices, swelling into a general chorus. Brasol made a short speech in Russian, telling her that representatives of the nobility, the army, the bourgeoisie and labor were present to "acclaim your majesty as our czarina." He laid a huge bouquet of red roses in her arms and stepped backward, bowing.

The former Grand Duchess replied, saying she welcomed the occasion and was especially glad to be told that Russians of all classes were present. "No matter what social distinction there may be," she said, "we are all Russians." She swept the circle with an all-including smile of friendliness and concluded: "So I have come among you."

Brasol flung himself on one knee and kissed her hand. The audience sang another hymn to the royal family. Then the guests were presented to "Her Majesty," one by one as she sat at one end of a sofa. Their curtsies were as deeply genuflective and their kissing of her hand quite as ceremonious as she had experienced last Monday at the reception of the Monday Opera Club.

Mrs. Henry P. Loomis, president of the Colonial Dames of America, and the member of the Executive Committee of the Monday Opera Club, who conveyed the American invitation to the former Grand Duchess, appeared at this juncture. Brasol explained to the Russian that "this lady is the American who is responsible for the kindness to the czarina in America. Out of respect we will play the 'Star-Spangled Banner.'"

NEW FILMS

By NIE.

EMERSON HOUGH'S excellent story, "North of 36," has been made into an equally excellent photo drama which is being shown at the Missouri Theatre. It is good, stirring entertainment on the order of "The Covered Wagon," but not done on as elaborate a scale as that earlier picture. The story is West. "North of 36" is a story of the carpet bagger days in Texas just after the Civil War and just before the coming of the railroads to that country. A rail head in Kansas was the closest point for the shipment of cattle to the rich markets of the East and the drama unfolds during the drive of a herd of 4000 Texas longhorns up through the Panhandle and across the Indian nation into Kansas. The herd is owned by a girl who drives them herself aided, of course, by her faithful ranchmen and hindered by border politicians, Indians and bad men of the Southwest. There are stampedes and fights with the Indians, and the arrival of the heroine, her cattle and her cowboys in Abilene, Kan., is finely pictured. Lois Wilson is the girl—did Texas cow girls wear knickerbockers in 1867?—and Jack Holt is a dandy ranchman who is suspected of being a cattle thief. Ernest Torrence has the same sort of a role that he had in "The Covered Wagon," and Noah Beery is the arch villain. The cast is as excellent as the picture.

Gilda Gray Dances.

GILDA GRAY, the most intensely and extensively pressed agent dancer on the stage today, in New York, in cabarets and the Ziegfeld Follies, is appearing at Loew's State as a feature attraction. It is her first appearance in St. Louis, and with her is a very pretty young woman, which packed the movie house Saturday afternoon, she failed to make any hit which she will not be able to live down. Miss Gray is what is called a "hula" dancer. She also is a shimmyer, and while she goes through these contortions more violently, at times, with more vulgarity, than any other dancer who has graced the stage since the old Standard Theatre closed its doors, there is nothing much else to say about her except that volunteer publicity men and women and paid press agents have succeeded in making her one of the greatest drawing cards of the country. And that, of course, is the answer. People want to see Gilda Gray—she is a very pretty young woman, and wherever she appears she is going to break the attendance records for the theater. The picture part of the program at the State is very good. "Yipsa Dana" is the star of "Along Came Ruth," a nice little comedy drama, and there is also a funny slap stick farce and some fine scenic views.

"Tarnish" on the Screen.

"TARNISH," which last week was shown at St. Louis as a spoken drama, is being displayed as a movie this week at the West End Lyric and Capitol. In its screen form it is propaganda for the single standard of morals or for the double standard, or for either or both, with or without reservations, it is not being perfectly clear which. EMERSON HOUGH'S excellent story, "North of 36," has been made into an equally excellent photo drama which is being shown at the Missouri Theatre. It is good, stirring entertainment on the order of "The Covered Wagon," but not done on as elaborate a scale as that earlier picture. The story is West. "North of 36" is a story of the carpet bagger days in Texas just after the Civil War and just before the coming of the railroads to that country. A rail head in Kansas was the closest point for the shipment of cattle to the rich markets of the East and the drama unfolds during the drive of a herd of 4000 Texas longhorns up through the Panhandle and across the Indian nation into Kansas. The herd is owned by a girl who drives them herself aided, of course, by her faithful ranchmen and hindered by border politicians, Indians and bad men of the Southwest. There are stampedes and fights with the Indians, and the arrival of the heroine, her cattle and her cowboys in Abilene, Kan., is finely pictured. Lois Wilson is the girl—did Texas cow girls wear knickerbockers in 1867?—and Jack Holt is a dandy ranchman who is suspected of being a cattle thief. Ernest Torrence has the same sort of a role that he had in "The Covered Wagon," and Noah Beery is the arch villain. The cast is as excellent as the picture.

Gilda Gray Dances.

GILDA GRAY, the most intensely and extensively pressed agent dancer on the stage today, in New York, in cabarets and the Ziegfeld Follies, is appearing at Loew's State as a feature attraction. It is her first appearance in St. Louis, and with her is a very pretty young woman, which packed the movie house Saturday afternoon, she failed to make any hit which she will not be able to live down. Miss Gray is what is called a "hula" dancer. She also is a shimmyer, and while she goes through these contortions more violently, at times, with more vulgarity, than any other dancer who has graced the stage since the old Standard Theatre closed its doors, there is nothing much else to say about her except that volunteer publicity men and women and paid press agents have succeeded in making her one of the greatest drawing cards of the country. And that, of course, is the answer. People want to see Gilda Gray—she is a very pretty young woman, and wherever she appears she is going to break the attendance records for the theater. The picture part of the program at the State is very good. "Yipsa Dana" is the star of "Along Came Ruth," a nice little comedy drama, and there is also a funny slap stick farce and some fine scenic views.

"Tarnish" on the Screen.

"TARNISH," which last week was shown at St. Louis as a spoken drama, is being displayed as a movie this week at the West End Lyric and Capitol. In its screen form it is propaganda for the single standard of morals or for the double standard, or for either or both, with or without reservations, it is not being perfectly clear which. Whatever views any one may have on the subject, he or she will be able to find support in the film. It is usual in the movies to go the spoken

AMIE GUTH PUNSHON WARMLY WELCOMED AS A SOLOIST

Contralto's Voice Flexible and Pleasing at Her Appearance With Symphony Orchestra.

Amie Guth Punshon, contralto, was warmly welcomed as a soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra during yesterday's popular concert at the Odeon. Here is a voice characterized at times by brilliance, of a warm and glowing lower register, flexible and pleasing; although in the aria, "Omio Fernando," from "La Favorita," some of the top notes were husky and a little thin. The singer was most successful in a group of songs. Mrs. Beach's "Ah, Love But a Day," La Forge's "En Cuba," and Mrs. Dorothy Gaynor Blake's "The Kiss." The encore number was Whelpley "The Nightingale Has a Lore of Gold." The concert opened with the "Coronation March," from Meyerbeer's "Le Prophete," and closed with the "William Tell" overture. Between came Mendelssohn's overture, "Fingals Cave," and Alfred Ponchon's charming arrangement of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," for string orchestra. Gounod's perfume fountains bubbled in the ballet music from "Faust," and as extra Mr. Ganz offered Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and Saint Saens' "French March."—H. R. B.

MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

REACTION WINS.

By U. F. A. (United Farmers of America)

TOUGH the presidential campaign in the United States lacked the sensational closing days of the British election, the Republican victory, crushing defeat of the movement headed by Senator La Follette, was a measure due to skillful playing of the fears and suspicions of the public.

A press almost wholly under the control of the reactionaries, the most planks in whose platform were the ownership of railways and the power of the Supreme Court to veto legislation passed by the House of Representatives.

Some of the Senator's opponents declared that these proposals inspired by Moscow. Yet in Great Britain, no act of Parliament can be vetoed by the House of Commons.

In Canada, despite the recent precedent by the overruling of Parliament by the Railway Commission, the Federal Parliament, sublimely conscious of its power, is not about to declare that these proposals inspired by Moscow.

CONNECTICUT TO PICK SENATOR TOMORROW

Hamilton Holt and Gov.-Elect Bingham Trying for Brandegee's Seat.

By The Associated Press.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 15.—When the Republican and Democratic State conventions nominated respectively Col. Hiram Bingham and Hamilton Holt on Nov. 25 as candidates for the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Frank B. Brandegee, an unprecedented situation was created in Connecticut.

Col. Bingham, recently resigned as a professor of history in Yale University, is Lieutenant-Governor and Governor-elect and, in event of election tomorrow, will be in addition Senator-elect.

The problem then will be: Would he resign as Lieutenant-Governor and qualify as United States Senator and not appear Jan. 7 to take the oath of office as Governor, or would he be inaugurated as Governor and immediately resign to go to Washington to be sworn in as Senator? Col. Bingham has said only that he is preparing for his inauguration as Governor.

The successions in office should Col. Bingham resign after becoming Governor, and the general assembly be organized for the 1935 session, is fixed by the Constitution. The Lieutenant-Governor automatically becomes Governor, and the president pro-tempore of the Senate will be acting Lieutenant-Governor.

Former "Independent" Editor, Hamilton Holt, who was given the Democratic nomination because no other Democrat cared to contest for the place, was formerly editor of The Independent, and had been a summer resident of Woodstock, Conn. Last summer he qualified as an elector in that town.

He sought the nomination despite unequalled pluralities of Republican candidates for national and State officers at the election earlier in the month, figures which made party leaders unsuccessful in their search for a veteran campaigner to make the run against the Republican candidate.

Holt has been an advocate of the League of Nations, and the principles and policies of the late President Wilson. In his address accepting the nomination Holt said he entered the campaign without a pledge to any man, and he was ready "to unite with good men and women of whatever creed or party to bring about the greatest good of the greatest number."

The nomination of Bingham was preceded by a contest between the Republican organization under State Chairman J. Henry Horback and factions which advocated promotion of either Congressman John Q. Tilson of the Connecticut Third District, who has served 16 years, and Congressman Schuyler Merritt of the Fourth District, who went to the House in 1917.

In the September convention which nominated Bingham for the governorship many of those who later opposed him for the senatorial nomination were then opposed to him and centered on another candidate. This contest, however, did not go upon the floor as, rather than jeopardize the State in its indecision of the national party ticket, objection to Col. Bingham was not expressed in a ballot and he was nominated for the governorship and subsequently elected.

Criticism followed acceptance by Col. Bingham of the nomination for the senatorial while yet Governor-elect and Lieutenant-Governor. In his acceptance speech the nominee said he recognized his election as Governor by the people to be a call to duty, and he also recognized the right, under the existing system of representative government, of the delegates representatives of the Republican party to ask him to take the senatorial nomination as a duty.

Col. Bingham was long at Yale as a professor, specializing in South American history. In the late war he entered the Air Service and rose to command the largest aviation camp of the American forces in France. While on duty he crashed with a plane and was seriously hurt, the recovery from his injuries being slow. He is still a sufferer from the after-effects of war service, and northern winters are very trying to his health. This his friends see a reason for his preference for the duties of Senator, in case of election, rather than for the arduous executive, administrative and social duties over a two-year period as Governor.

CHILEAN JUNTA CABINET TO BE REFORMED THIS WEEK

Military Announces Adhesion to Government After Lateral Resignation

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 10.—The Cabinet, which tendered its resignation to the Government Junta Saturday, will be reorganized during the week. It is probable that some of the present Ministers will retain their portfolios in the new Cabinet.

All the newspapers express gratification that the crisis, which practically was a trial of strength between the Government Junta and the military junta, was settled in what they term a dignified and patriotic manner.

The trouble arose over the decision of the Government Junta to remove from the post Col. Ewing, the commander of the Carabineros, or mounted police, because one of Ewing's subordinates had circulated suggestions that Ewing should be considered as a candidate for the presidency.

The military junta, which started the military movement in September which created the present Government, protested that the question of the dismissal of Ewing was not referred to it. The crisis ended yesterday when the Government Junta resigned. The military junta then declared its adhesion to the Government Junta and its intention to leave the Government free from all pressure. The navy also expressed its adhesion.

Fire Razes 3 Blocks of Oil Town.

CROMWELL, Ok., Dec. 10.—Fire, starting in several places, razed three blocks of Cromwell's business section early yesterday. None was injured. This is the second big fire in the business section of this oil town, the first, two weeks ago, sweeping away almost a block with a loss of $100,000. Among the places destroyed was the Murphy dance hall, which recently figured in an expose of traffic in women.

Another Textile Mills' Wage Cut.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 10.—A wage cut of approximately 10 per cent went into effect today in the Everett mills. The mills, which have been operating on a greatly curtailed schedule, will now run five days a week. The plant normally employs 1800 persons and makes cotton textiles.

'LOOSENESS' THAT COSTS MILLIONS IN REVENUE BUREAU

Senator Couzens Says His Committee Has Found Apparent Errors in Tax Allowances.

LAXITY IN FERRETING OUT TAX EVASION

Investigators Take Up an Alleged Overpayment of $20,000,000 to Steel Corporation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Chairman Couzens of the special Senate committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau, declared in a statement today that the committee had found "much looseness in the execution of the work" of the bureau, resulting in the apparent loss of "millions of dollars of revenue to the Government."

"In some of these cases," the chairman declared, "the department officials have admitted errors, and while the committee charges no dishonesty, it finds much looseness in the execution of the work."

Noting that a review had been ordered of one case, involving an alleged overallowance of $600,000 in taxes to one company, Couzens said special investigators were now working on other cases that will be taken up this week by the committee. He invited the public to send in suggestions for simplifying the procedure of the bureau as well as the statutes.

"This lack of uniformity," Couzens declared, "worked great injustice to some taxpayers and excessive reductions in taxes to others. The injustice arose, not because the evidence showed that many taxpayers paid taxes they should not pay, but rather that taxpayers were relieved who should not have been relieved."

"For example, a large concern on the Pacific was allowed a claim by the United States Shipping Board involving $800,000, and the same claim was allowed by the Internal Revenue Bureau, thus losing to the Government some $600,000 in taxes. It developed a clear case of lack of proper working arrangements between the two departments, the responsibility for which was upon the Internal Revenue Bureau."

"The committee has been assured that an effort will be made to collect this $600,000, and if it is collected, as the committee believes it should, fully 10 times the cost of the committee's work will have been collected in one case."

"The committee found other cases where claims were allowed for amortization on plants and equipment purchased before our country entered the World War, and yet it was clearly provided by statute that only amortization was to be allowed on war plants and war equipment which were purchased after we entered the war."

"Taxpayers received advantages over other taxpayers because the methods used in keeping their books. The cases that the committee have examined in this connection represent a loss to the Government, if the committee's interpretation is correct, of many millions of dollars of revenue to the Government."

"The committee has come across cases of what looks like what is termed in Wall street 'washed sales' for the purpose of tax evasion, and it appears that the bureau has not given sufficient consideration to these attempts to evade taxes. Taxpayers have made excessive claims for amortization, alleging that they purchased excess facilities for war purposes. Laxity in fixing the extent of the use of these plants subsequent to the war has developed in our hearings."

Tax returns of the United States Steel Corporation were taken up today by the committee. Chairman Couzens announced the case involved an alleged loss of returns to the Government of about $20,000,000 as a result of what the committee considered excessive allowance to the corporation on amortization claims. He said he believed the evidence showed the corporation was granted amortization upon its conversion from a war-operated plant to a private organization. The corporation's original amortization claim was $35,000,000, he said, and about $25,000,000 was allowed.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

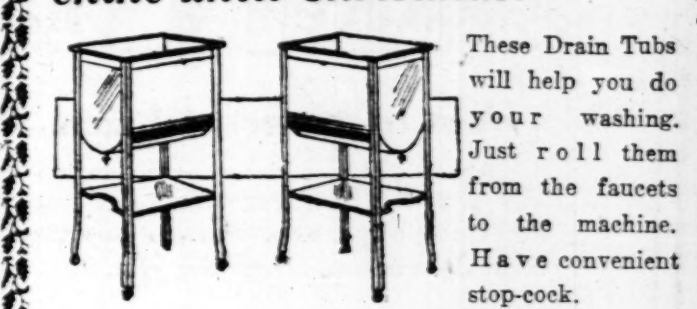

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and sell him to serve you two teaspoons.

With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it. Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for ear-ache, croup and children's coughing up at night.

CITY'S CONDEMNATION
ATTORNEY RESIGNSWilliam Senn Says His Staff
Is Too Small and $4800
Salary Inadequate.

William Senn, chief condemnation attorney for the city, who has had charge of all condemnation work incident to street widening and acquisition of land for parks and public institutions since 1912, today notified City Counselor Senti he would tender his resignation, effective Dec. 31. Inadequate salary, inability to handle the vast program of work devolving upon him as a result of the $87,000,000 bond issue with the small staff of assistants provided and need of a rest were given as reasons for his decision to quit.

Senn's present salary is $4800. It was advanced to this figure from $3600 in February, 1923, upon the passage of the bond issue, when he took charge of condemnation projects totaling $50,000,000. At that time, however, he requested a salary of $6000 a year and a corps of a dozen attorneys as major assistants. He was provided with four major assistants and has been carrying on the work under difficulties and had determined to give up the fight.

Senn expressed regret at Senn's decision and declared he knew of no manner by which the city could replace him, as he had been in the service longer and knew the work better than any other man available. There are now five or six years of condemnation work ahead on the bond issue alone, Senn declared, and among these projects are such items as the Memorial Plaza, widening of Market street and opening Twelfth boulevard from Washington avenue to Florissant avenue, all involving the expenditure of a vast sum of money and requiring the services of a man thoroughly familiar with the law and the bond issue program.

Senn said he had no plans for the future except to take a rest.

MARBLE SLAB AT HOLY DOOR MOVED
FOR POPE'S ENTRYCeremony at St. Peter's in Rome Performed by Church Dignitaries by Torchlight.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Dec. 16.—The ceremony of loosening the masonry that walls up the "Holy Door," which Pope Pius will open Christmas eve, in the basilica of St. Peter's, formally announcing the commencement of the Holy Year of Jubilee was performed last night.

Monsignor Samperi, the papal majordomo, accompanied by Monsignor Caccia-Dominioni, master of the papal household, and escorted by Swiss guards and four sedarii, or carriers of the papal chair, bearing lighted torches and the Holy Sacrament, approached the Holy Door.

After a half hour's work masons removed the marble tablet having on it a cross. Then they removed the bronze urns, which contained documents written by Dr. Lappoin, Pope Leo's personal physician, and by Cavalier De Angelle, Knight of the Cope and Sword, who organized the pilgrimage to the Holy Door during the last Holy Year.

They also removed a glass tube containing 12 gold, 30 silver and 60 bronze medals, half of which commemorated the closing of the Holy Door in 1900.

HERRIOT'S ILLNESS THREATENS FRENCH MINISTERIAL CRISIS
Painleve and Briand Mentioned for Successor if Premier Should Be Forced to Retire.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Dec. 15.—The shadow of a coming ministerial crisis has been thrown across the political pathway by Premier Herriot's illness. Although the carefully worded official bulletin regarding the Premier's condition yesterday said the physicians expected him to be up in 10 days, it refrained from suggesting that he probably would be able to resume work then. His absence for a period of convalescence, it is generally admitted, is impossible owing to the many difficult problems now before the Government.

Yesterday's statement says that "for the first time in five days the Premier had been able to sleep some hours." The Premier suffered severe pain and stiffness of the muscles of the calf of one of his legs.

The bulletin does not describe the nature of the malady. The only medical term used is that the nervous affection is developing normally and within a limited space. It is thought, however, that overwork by the Premier may have caused inflammation of the veins, with a possible involvement of the bone.

The names of former Premiers Painleve and Briand are being mentioned as possible successors of M. Herriot in case the physicians of the Premier insist that he take a long rest, and the question is being asked how long either Painleve or Briand would be able to keep together the diverse elements forming the Government majority.

WALL BUILDING FORECLOSURE SALE TEMPORARILY BLOCKED
Suit Was Filed by Louisianan.
Former Owner of Structure.

A temporary restraining order enjoining the foreclosure sale of the Wall Building, Vandeventer avenue and Olive street, which was set for Dec. 16, was issued today by Circuit Judge Frey on the bill of complaint of E. Kirby Smith of Shreveport, La., former owner of the structure. The restraining order is returnable Dec. 19.

Smith, in his suit filed today, names as defendants Kenney Bros., Inc. of Washington, and the St. Louis Union Trust Co., the latter being trustee under a mortgage on the Wall Building. Smith recites that in December, 1922, he gave Kenney Bros. notes aggregating $200,000 as part payment on an apartment hotel owned by them in Washington. To secure the notes, Kenney Bros. misrepresented the annual earning power as well as the appointments of the apartment hotel and in addition hurried him in making the sale. Smith denies that the notes under the mortgage are in default and asks that title to the Wall Building be reinstated in him by the court.

According to Smith, in addition to the notes, he paid $75,000 cash in the deal, assumed a $1,000,000 indebtedness and gave a second mortgage to Kenney Bros. for $953,000.

SALE OF HOTEL CHASE IS BEING COMPLETED TODAY

The sale of the Chase Hotel to the Lindell Hotel Co., organized by Chicagoans to buy and operate that hotel, is to be completed today when the option given by Chase Ulman to Eli B. Wolf, Fred C. Skillman and George T. Thompson of Chicago expires. Final arrangements for the transfer are being made this morning.

Wolf, Chicago financier and realty owner, who heads the syndicate of purchasers, this morning refused to make public the amount of the purchase price. The sale, however, is subject to a deed of trust for $2,700,000 which the new owners will assume after buying Ulman's interest in the property. Wolf is owner of the hotel in Chicago, and has other hotels, interests in that city. Skillman, who is manager of the Chase and Thompson, for many years connected with the Illinois Hotel Association and an expert in the location and an expert in the steward's department will have charge of the "back of the house" it is understood. Both are partners in the venture. The new owners plan immediate improvements and redecoration of the hotel, in which they are expected to expend not less than $50,000. Negotiations for the sale have been under way for several months.

WARRANTS ISSUED AGAINST FOUR CHIROPRACTORS HERE
Warrants charging practicing medicine without a license were issued today by Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer against four chiropractors, arrested two weeks ago by Health Officer Fishwick, and since at liberty under bond.

The delay in the issuance of warrants was occasioned by a difference in the interpretation of the statutes. Schweitzer held that the chiropractors could not be prosecuted unless it were definitely shown that they had accepted money for treatment, while the Health Department interpreted the law to mean that the act of advertising as a chiropractor or diagnosing a case constituted a violation of the law forbidding practice of medicine without a license. A chiropractor cannot be licensed under the Health Department rules.

The four men named in the warrants are Walter E. Koch of 4213 Manchester avenue; Frank W. Kirtz, 1426A South Grand boulevard; and Thomas F. Maher and Frank J. Bober of 2837 St. Louis avenue.

REDUCE TERRORS OF AUTO, SAYS HOOVER

Secretary Points Out Approaches to Remedy at Safety Conference.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Modern methods in industry and commerce and policing have been successful in reducing annually with in the United States the number of accidental deaths and injuries from every cause but one, and that is the automobile. Secretary Hoover declared today in an address opening the national conference on street and highway safety.

In 19 years the rate of fatal accidents has been doubled by automobile operation, the Secretary said, and, while motor vehicles have established themselves as a primary necessity of American life, it is necessary to find "constructive measures to meet the crisis of tens of thousands of deaths annually, with hundreds of thousands of serious personal injuries, accompanied by economic loss of a staggering sum."

"A very large portion of the 22,600 deaths, the $78,000 serious personal injuries, which is our annual traffic toll for the last year," the Secretary said, "have happened to men, women and children on foot. The next largest group who suffer are the motorists themselves who are the victims of reckless driving upon the part of a small minority of vicious or ignorant."

"The automobile is the greatest development of 20 years, both economically and socially. But if we wish for its fullest development, we must reduce its terrors."

Approach to Remedy.
"There are three broad methods of approach to remedy. First, through prevention and safeguard, and, second, through much stronger punishment for violation of the rights of others; third, through public education as to its responsibilities."

"It is not my purpose here to enter upon the proposals before the conference. They cover a tremendous range from town planning and traffic planning to regulation, legislation and engineering construction and education. They embrace both punitive and preventive measures. Many parts of the proposals are in use in some place in the country today, but only in parts. For instance, but few of our states impose rigorous determination of competence before licensing drivers. There is no uniformity in traffic regulations."

"The vast majority of motorists are conscientious and careful and competent. It is the inconsiderate, the careless, the incompetent, who are bringing these dangers. Nor is the pedestrian altogether free from contributory negligence."

"The time has come when every accident must be examined and punishment meted out that will impress the mind of the reckless for the balance of their natural lives."

"Utilization of the experience and ideas of all communities in solving their common problem of traffic regulation and accident prevention forms the purpose of the national conference. At the call of Hoover, State and local highway commissioners, city traffic commissioners, city traffic authorities, motor manufacturers and representatives of the public from all sections are among those on hand for the two-day sessions."

After the opening address by Secretary Hoover, chairman of the several committees appointed by the Secretary six months ago had ready reports on various phases of the subject under study. These dealt with problems presented by the increasing use of motor vehicles and the resulting higher accident and death rates; city planning methods; better methods of automobile construction and operation and kindred subjects. It is hoped to make possible a general advance throughout the country in methods and measures for putting city and highway transportation on a safer basis.

APPLIES TO UNIFY SYSTEMS
Terminal Railroad Seeks to Take Over Companies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis applied today to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to take over the St. Louis Transfer Railway Co., the East St. Louis connecting railway and the St. Louis Merchants Bridge Terminal Railway Co. The unification, it was declared, would be of public benefit.

These lines, affiliated with the Terminal Association, are at present being operated under that organization's auspices, but the reports and accounting, under provisions of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, must be made separately for each unit to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The petition filed today asked that the Terminal Association be allowed to handle this work under one central organization.

Robinson Guest on Mayflower.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—President and Mrs. Coolidge returned today from a short cruise on the Mayflower down the Potomac. Heavy winds caused the yacht to anchor during the night two miles from her place of departure at the navy yard. The guests on the trip included Senator Capper (Rep.), Kansas, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the Senate; Secretary and Mrs. Hoover; Attorney-General and Mrs. Stone, Senator Butler (Rep.), Massachusetts, and Representative Madden (Rep.), Illinois.

Slain in Covered Wagon.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. JOHN, Kan., Dec. 15.—J. R. Williams, about 55 years old, was beaten and shot to death on the new Santa Fe trail nine miles southwest of here yesterday in a fight with Thomas Snead, 25, of Vanburen, Ark. his companion in a covered wagon. Snead was captured by a posse and brought to the jail here. He admitted the slaying, declaring Williams had attacked him first with a hand ax. The fight resulted from an argument over the collection of $40 which Snead says Williams owed him for a team of horses.

MILLSAUGH HELD IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Will Test Order to Produce Bank Records in Civil Suit.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—State Finance Commissioner Millsaugh, "constructively," is in jail at Princeton, Mo., on a charge of contempt of court, although actually in Jefferson City today arranging to file an application for a writ of habeas corpus in Supreme Court, to test whether a Circuit Judge can compel him to produce records of a bank examination as evidence in trial of a civil suit.

Millsaugh was summoned as a witness in a suit brought by the Farmers' Bank of Bridgeton against a customer, to recover $7000 on a note alleged to be overdue. He was called upon to produce the report of a recent examination of the bank, to show whether the examiner's report listed the note in question as overdue paper in the bank.

He refused to testify, on the ground that the banking laws prohibit him from disclosing facts concerning a bank examination, except in a criminal proceeding.

Circuit Judge Wood declared Millsaugh in contempt of court and ordered him to jail. However, by private agreement, it was said, the Judge did not require the Sheriff to place Millsaugh in jail, but permitted him to return to Jefferson City to institute a test of the law.

The law provides that the Finance Commissioner and employees of his department shall keep secret all facts obtained in the course of bank examinations, "except so far as the public duty of such official requires him to report upon or take special action regarding the affairs of any bank." Another exception is in connection with criminal proceedings.

CAPTAIN OF MISSOURI TEAM GETS RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Collinsville Student Also Elected—Three Candidates From West Point Chosen.

By the Associated Press.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Dec. 15.—Three candidates accredited from the United States Military Academy at West Point were awarded Rhodes scholarships for the states of Maryland, New Hampshire and Washington. In the annual elections completed Saturday, President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore College, American secretary to the Rhodes trustees, announced last night. This is the first time in the history of the Rhodes scholarships that an award has been made to a West Pointer.

The list for other states includes Reuben A. Borach, Collinsville, Ill., of the Illinois Wesleyan University, and Arthur D. Bond of Columbia, Mo., of the University of Missouri.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 15.—Arthur D. Bond, who has been awarded a Rhodes scholarship, is captain of the University of Missouri football team. He led the Tigers to the Missouri Valley Conference championship this year, and will direct the team at Los Angeles Christmas day in a post-season game with the University of Southern California.

TOTAL OF 50 YEARS FOR ROBBER OF MRS. STICKNEY

Negro Who Took $17,000 in Jewelry From Woman Gets Ten Additional Years.

Alonso Dowell, negro, who held up Mrs. W. Arthur Stickney on Ladue road, Nov. 11, and escaped with $17,000 in jewelry, brought his total of prospective imprisonment to 50 years and a day when he pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Wurdeman at Clayton today to two burglaries and was sentenced to five years for each.

In addition Dowell announced that he would not appeal the 28-year and one day sentence assessed by a jury last week for the Stickney robbery. He will also drop his appeal from a five-year sentence assessed in St. Louis when he was at liberty on bond on this appeal when he robbed Mrs. Stickney.

Dowell was charged with five University City burglaries on the night of July 19. He pleaded guilty to two and the other three charges were not-prosecuted. He admitted taking $30 in cash from the home of Mose Feltenstein, 816 Eastgate avenue, and 1470 worth of jewelry from the home of Roy C. Sutton of 6274 Cates avenue.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FLITCRAFT

Services at Home for Widow of Former Circuit Judge.
Funeral services for Mrs. Emma B. Flitcraft, 64, widow of former Circuit Judge P. R. Flitcraft, were held yesterday at 2 p. m. at her home, 423 Westgate avenue, with the Rev. John W. MacIvor of the Second Presbyterian Church of the city officiating. Mrs. Flitcraft was a member of the church. She was buried in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Flitcraft died at her home Friday. She is survived by two daughters, Ada Virginia and Edna Belle Flitcraft, and two sisters, Mrs. H. I. Gourley of St. Louis and Mrs. E. F. Palmer of Burlington, La. Her husband, P. R. Flitcraft, who in 1895 was elected Circuit Judge and who was prominent in civic affairs. He died in 1908.

EX-GOV. GLYNN OF NEW YORK DEAD

He Considered His Greatest Work Was in Behalf of Ireland.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Martin H. Glynn, former Governor of New York, long an outstanding figure in journalism, law, government and politics, died unexpectedly at his home here yesterday. Death was ascribed to heart disease.

Mr. Glynn returned Saturday from a hospital in the suburbs of Boston, where he had been undergoing treatment for spinal trouble of long standing. He complained Saturday night of not feeling well, but members of his family attributed this to the fatigue of the trip. He retired late and rose about noon. He again complained he was not feeling well, but started to walk about his room.

According to members of his family, he had taken only a few steps when he collapsed. A physician was summoned, but Mr. Glynn was dead when he arrived.

Mr. Glynn was 53 years old. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mary C. McGraw of Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Glynn believed his greatest services were his efforts in behalf of Ireland.

David Lloyd George, former Premier of England, gave former Gov. Glynn credit for having done more than any man to bring about the present Irish Free State.

It was through Glynn that David Lloyd George, then Premier of England, sent his first message to De Valera, "President of the Irish republic," inviting the Irish leader to London to settle the Irish question through peaceful negotiating.

Former Gov. Glynn was also credited with having done much to bring about the re-election of President Wilson in 1916 through his eloquent speech before the Democratic national convention. Glynn was temporary chairman of the convention.

Mr. Glynn's political career in the Democratic party began with his election to the Fifty-sixth Congress from the Twentieth New York District. He became Comptroller of the State in 1906 and was elected Lieutenant-Governor in 1912. With the removal of Gov. William Sulzer by impeachment in 1913, Mr. Glynn became Governor. He called of election in 1914, relinquishing the governorship to Charles S. Whitman. At the time of his death he was editor of the Albany Times-Union.

ASTRONOMICAL DAY WILL BE MERGED WITH CIVIL DAY

Beginning Jan. 1, Navigators Also Will Reckon Time From Midnight to Midnight.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, Dec. 15.—The last day of 1924 will be a short one for navigators and astronomers—a day of only 12 hours. For midnight of Dec. 31 will mark the passing of the venerable custom of seamen and students of the stars, of reckoning their days from noon until noon, and their nights from midnight to midnight.

On Jan. 1, 1925, the astronomical day will merge its identity with the civil day, according to an announcement in the Harvard College Observatory bulletin. H. T. Stetson, assistant professor of astronomy at Harvard, said the same change had been decided upon in connection with the nautical day. Prof. Stetson said that the change was adopted primarily to avoid confusion. The astronomical day was, originally, arranged so that the astronomer, working in the observatory during the night, would not have his work complicated by a change of date at midnight.

The change was made by general agreement, he said. Announcements will be reckoned from the Greenwich mean midnight and designated Greenwich civil time. The Julian day will be considered as coincident with the civil day, and "it is proposed to designate it as the Julian Civil Day," the Bulletin states. For astronomers, the first Julian civil day will bear the number 2,424,152.

CRIPPLED WATCHMAN BURNED TO DEATH IN HOUSEBOAT FIRE

Edward O'Hanlon, Missouri Pacific Employee, Lost Life in Home at Foot of Upton Street. Edward O'Hanlon, 59 years old, crippled watchman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, was burned to death in a fire yesterday afternoon which destroyed the houseboat in which he lived at the foot of Upton street. O'Hanlon, who lived alone, was crippled in a railroad accident three years ago and lost his life because he was not active enough to escape the flames. He was 59 years old.

Passersby discovered smoke coming from the boat at 1:35 p. m. and after turning in a fire alarm ran to the craft. They could hear cries for several minutes after flame and smoke had made it impossible for them to enter. After the fire department had arrived the blaze was extinguished and firemen and policemen found the watchman's body which had been partially destroyed by the flames. Letters indicated that he has a niece in New York City and a brother in Albany. A son is said to be an enlisted man in the Navy. O'Hanlon was a widower.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

When Christmas Brings Them Parker Duofold

The Over-size Pen with 25-Year Point The Black-tipped Lacquer-red Classic

WHEN your loved ones spy the Duofold's cheery color Christmas morning, they will know in a flash that you give from the heart! For they know Parker Duofold is the finest pen any one could give them. A classic in shapeliness, a positive treasure for balance, with a color that's handsomer than gold and makes this a hard pen to lose.

Yet more famous still is its 25-year point—a point of polished Iridium, set in extra thick gold. The tip alone costs us $2340 a pound. That's three times the cost of ordinary pen tips.

It's a point that suits all hands, and one dares not lend at will. For no style of writing can distort it. It's guaranteed 25 years for mechanical perfection and wear!

Most of these facts are widely known. So be careful to give the genuine Parker Duofold. Anything less, a copy or imitation, is apt to seem ungallant. Neat Gold Pocket-clip or Gold Ribbon-ring included free. Also the strong ★Gold Girdle around the cap—the last loving touch. This was $1 extra until sweeping demand scaled down our cost per pen. Duofold is really a $10 value for $7.

Look on the pen for the stamp, "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD—Lucky Curve." Look carefully and protect yourself and your friends from deceptions.

Jimmy Nolan Plays Brilliantly at Center Forward for Scullins, While Tate Brady Finds Fullback Area Too Small—Miller Defense Collapses in Second Half.

By Dent McKimmin.
A heavy toll in injuries which cost the Ben Millers three regular players had a great deal to do with the 3 to 0 defeat suffered yesterday at the hands of the Scullins in a St. Louis Soccer League game at Grand and Laclede avenues. The Millers have lost only two games this season and in each instance it was the Scullins who upset the leaders. The Vespers defeated the Raticans, 2 to 0.

Jim Dunn was absent from center forward because of a knee injury which apparently is so severe that he will be unable to play for two weeks. His brother, Tom Dunn, is nursing a sprained ankle, which has kept him idle for two weeks. Tommy White, left halfback, has a bad knee, and in the first half of yesterday's game halfback Eddie Crook was forced to retire from the game because of a twisted knee.

Standing of the Clubs

TEAM	W.	L.	T.	Pts.	For	Against
Ben Millers	4	2	3	11	14	14
Scullins	4	2	3	11	14	14
Vespers	4	2	2	10	11	8
Raticans	0	8	1	1	4	14

Halfback Hensick lost a chance to score for the Raticans when he lifted a penalty shot over the cross bar. Kicking to either side of the bar, in trying to put the ball in the corner, is sometimes excusable, but raising the shot over the bar twice in two attempts proves that the kicker is committing the fatal error of getting his toe under the ball, a thing which should not happen in a so-called first-class league. A team should have a man kicking penalties who can keep the ball low.

In the second half, Becker scored on a pass from Tracy. The game was rough and in the second half Tracy was tripped, just as he prepared to shoot after getting past the fullbacks. Only one serious injury was recorded, although time was called to revive LaBerge, Pepper and Tracy. The last severe hurt came when Sch. C. kicked Punt's legs from under him while the Vesper player was heading the ball. Punt retired from the game. Fewer than 2000 persons attended the double-header.

Roper Is Offered Teaching Post to Meet Valley Rule

Conference Regulation Would Keep W. U. From Having Part Time Coach.

William Roper, formerly head football coach of Princeton University, who was in St. Louis Saturday and yesterday to discuss with Washington University authorities a proposition to make him football coach of the Pikeaway institution, departed yesterday for his home in Philadelphia where he will discuss the offer with relatives and friends before making a final decision. Roper is expected to wire his acceptance or rejection in a few days.

Chancellor Hadley and the Washington athletic council have left nothing undone to make this proposition attractive to Roper. When Roper came here he was under the impression that he might be able to coach football for several months and then return to Philadelphia, where he has been practicing law and is a member of the City Council. It was discovered, however, that a Missouri Valley Conference rule prohibits part-time or seasonal services of a coach and that almost settled the matter for Roper, who is desirous of maintaining connections with law, which he has practiced for about eight years.

Chancellor Hadley then came to the rescue by offering Roper a position as a member of the faculty of the Law School in addition to his position of head coach. This made a favorable impression on Roper.

Roper is apparently well-fitted for a place with the Law School faculty. He was graduated in law from the University of Virginia, has practiced for a number of years and has lectured on political science and law at Princeton University.

Chancellor Hadley in a statement to the press, said that Roper, besides being a splendid coach, impressed him as a man of culture and refinement who would be a substantial addition to the university and to the community.

Washington officials are of the opinion that Roper will decide to accept their offer.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES FAVOR ANNUAL INTERCITY FOOTBALL GAMES

Chicago and Kansas City Champions Suggested for Post-Season Events Here

Saturday's Games Here With Sikeston and Charleston Netted About $1200 for Teachers' Annuity Fund—If Future Games Are Arranged They Will Also Be Benefit Affairs.

Although a complete report of finances is not yet available, officials in charge of Saturday's intercity high school football double-header have announced that the success of the venture is assured, about $1200 was realized after all expenses had been paid, it was said.

The proceeds from the games will be turned over to the Teachers' Annuity Association, which body handled the program through the president, L. J. Sexton, principal of the Isaac Mason School.

Expenses incidental to the games amounted to about $450 and gross gate receipts came to approximately $1250. The chief item of expense were the transportation and hotel bill for the Charleston and Sikeston, Mo. teams, the rental fee for St. Louis University Field, the cost of ticket printing and two new balls. The officials who handled the games worked without charge.

Hope for Other Intercity Games. Although Superintendent W. J. Bryan said today that the attitude of the Board of Education toward intercity athletic contests had not been altered, there is evidence of renewed hope among high school pupils, coaches, faculty and alumni that the bars to such competition will be let down.

If the board will permit such post-season championship competition, the coaches are ready to propose a plan for annual football games with the champion team in Chicago or Kansas City. With a Chicago team as the attraction, a greater attendance would be assured and a comparatively greater financial return realized.

The admission charged for Saturday's double-header was 50 cents at the gate and 25 cents for tickets bought in advance at the schools. It is generally conceded that the charge might easily have been 50 cents and 25 cents.

School Board's Policy Regarding Intercity Games Is Unchanged

"THE attitude of the School Board toward intercity athletic competition has not been altered, so far as I know, since the games of Saturday," answered W. J. Bryan, Superintendent of Instruction, when asked today whether the bars to such competition would be let down.

"This is not a decision of mine. The board rule forbids such competition," he added. Principal L. J. Sexton, president of the Teachers' Annuity Fund, to which the proceeds of the games were devoted, said today that his organization was gratified with the result of the affair.

Casey Looks Like New Tennis Star From California

Tilden Praises Young Player's Serve and Sees Bright Future for Him.

By WILLIAM T. TILDEN, World's Champion Tennis Player.

ONE of the hardest things in the sporting world is to keep up with the times. Before you realize it, men whom you take for granted are still at the top have slipped into the class of has-beens, and new figures are looming at the forefront.

I spent much time in 1924 watching the rise of new stars in tennis. California really has so many of them that one more or less should not be a surprise. But every once in a while somebody hits a streak so phenomenal that we hear of his deeds.

The name of Ray Casey has been heard with increasing frequency all over the United States during 1924 and a word on him and his game may prime the public for his appearance in 1925.

Ray Casey is tall, heavy and powerful. He stands six feet high and weighs close to 200 pounds. He is young, in his middle twenties, and a left-hander.

Has Powerful Service.

Casey is a player of the McLaughlin-Murray school. He has a service that carries speed and twist. His great reach enables him to slam the ball into the corners of the service court with tremendous power. Undoubtedly Casey's delivery must rank among the great services of the world.

The rest of his game is crude, powerful, but unformed.

His forehand drive is a wallop or a nat, nothing between. His backhand is a peculiar poke. He volleys well, but not as severely as you would expect, while his overhead is erratic.

This analysis sounds as if Casey were not a great player, yet he is.

He won the California championship, San Francisco title and several Northwestern events, beating during the year such players as Howard Kinsey, Bob Kinsey, Griffin, Snodgrass and Borotra.

There is no doubt about Casey's ability. He is a very dangerous player on hard courts.

Lost to Howard Kinsey.

In Mexico he was defeated by Howard Kinsey in a good match. His service was not so dangerous on dirt courts. What will he do when he comes East on grass?

Personally I am afraid his first year will prove a disappointment. But after one season of experience he should do well.

I cannot believe his service will be so dangerous on grass, while the remainder of his game is not yet sound enough to stand up against a top-flight man who can return his service.

I look to see Casey win some fine matches in the East next year, but also to suffer some unexpected and disappointing defeats. The grass game is tricky and Casey is still too crude in technique to master it quickly.

There is something reminiscent of Carl Fischer in the impetuous, hot-headed attack of Casey. He needs steadying down and solidity.

I consider him one of the most interesting figures that has appeared on the tennis horizon in some years and will watch his development with keen interest.

A new Californian is always an event in the tennis world.

Other Good Californians.

There are other players in California who could add much to the game if they came East.

John E. Strachan and Roland Roberts would find a welcome awaiting them if they decided to stage a comeback. They are both young and playing well.

Los Angeles has not only Harvey Snodgrass and Walter Wesbrook, but three other players who should grace Eastern courts—Harold Godshall, who was East as a junior, and who now is a greatly improved player; Tom Ferandini, his doubles partner and an equally fine singles player, and Miles Réinke.

These three young stars are but a shade below Wesbrook and Snodgrass, and with a little experience in the top-flight tournaments should speedily develop to a point where they could be the equal of their more famous townsmen.

PIKER BASKETBALL TEAM OPENS SEASON IN INDIANA TONIGHT

The Washington University basketball season will open tonight in Bloomington, Ind., where the Piker five will meet the University of Indiana team.

Coach Don White took a squad of 10 men to Indiana. The team will be picked from Capt. Cox, Miner, Niles and Stanford, forwards; Lyle, Hallauer, Levy and Hell, guards; Seago and Winkler, centers.

The Hoosiers are the first of three Big Ten Conference teams to be met by the Pikers.

Three Michigan Teams Schedule Sectional Games

Most Important Will Be State University's Engagement With the Navy.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 15.—Intersectionism strongly flavors the football schedules of Michigan's three major educational institutions next year, virtually complete schedule show.

The University of Michigan, where Pleading Yost, director of athletics, long has frowned on "grass far field, will direct her aerial broadsides against the toughest of the Navy craft, the Aggies, with a return game in the East in 1926. This will be the only game smacking of intersectionism on the State University's card.

The Michigan Aggies, however, more ambitious in their schedule building than ever before, have Centre College, Penn State and Colgate for their intersectional opponents. Colgate comes to East Lansing, Oct. 31, with the Penn State game set for the following week at State College, Pennsylvania.

The Centre game will be played at East Lansing, but the date has not been fixed. The Aggies hope to find room for at least one more foe from a distant gridiron.

Topping both Michigan and the Aggies in a schedule headed with intersectional encounters is the University of Detroit, which opens its argument with an Eastern team, Oct. 3, playing Army at New York.

Georgetown University comes here two weeks later for the second East-West tilt of the card. The Washington and Jefferson game, which has become almost a fixture on the Detroit schedule, will be played here Nov. 14, with Bucknell designated for the Thanksgiving day offering at the U. of D. stadium.

OLD WABADAS WILL MEET WITH RUEL AT RECEPTION TONIGHT

A reunion of members of the old Wabada baseball team, with which "Muddy" Ruel started playing baseball, is being arranged for the reception to be given tonight for the world's series star. At least half a dozen of the old Wabadas are expected to attend the affair at the Knights of Columbus building.

The entertainment is being arranged by Pauline Council, K. of C., of which Ruel is a member. J. B. Sheridan, who managed the Wabadas, will speak, as will several grand officers of the lodge.

BAN JOHNSON HERE TO SEE BROWNS' OFFICIALS

BYRON BANCROFT JOHNSON, president of the American League, was in St. Louis today for a conference with the Browns' officials.

President Ball said he had not heard from President Johnson this morning and did not know he was in the city. Vice President Walter Fritsch was expecting to meet Johnson later in the day but he could not comment on the purpose of Mr. Johnson's visit.

President Ball of the Browns is one owner who has not faltered in his loyalty to the American League head. It is expected that Johnson will have a hard fight to resist attempts to dislodge him as head of the organization at the joint league meeting in Chicago Wednesday.

League Buys Franchise.

By the Associated Press. DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 15.—The Galveston baseball franchise yesterday was sold to the Texas League by its owners, together with player contracts and territorial rights. Details were announced last night following an all-day session of the Executive Committee of the Texas League, before which appeared owners of the Galveston franchise.

Doolittle to Run Against Nurmi

Liewendhal Another Who Will Oppose Finnish Star in Chicago.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Desire of additional runners to participate in the proposed three-cornered race between Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, Finnish distance stars, and Jole Ray, American runner, at the Chicago Coliseum Jan. 16, has caused officials to decide to enlarge that event, Charles A. Dean, chairman of the Athletic committee of the I. A. C., announced last night.

Frey Liewendhal, a Finlander who qualified for the final of the 5000-meter run in the Olympic games last summer, and who now is in Chicago, will represent the Finnish-American A. C. Dean said. Plus Doolittle of Butler College, an American Olympic runner, has also been accepted by Dean, who may enlarge the field even more.

Race Driver Injured.

By the Associated Press. HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 15.—"Wild Bill" Wade, professional automobile race driver, was seriously injured at the Houston Speedway here late yesterday in a race when his machine jumped the embankment and crashed into several parked automobiles, turned over and burst into flames. At the hospital it was said his condition is critical.

Additional Sport On Page 30

Chairman Dean also announced that in case Nurmi, who will be permitted to name the distance, elects a shorter route than a mile, Ray will not run. Ray Watson or Ray Dodge of the I. A. C. will be substituted in that case, he said.

The race in which Nurmi will participate is to be the feature of a program of relay and handicap events.

American League Magnates Are Expected to Back Up Johnson

Owners Intimate National League Ought to Undergo House Cleaning Before Rival League's Circuit Is Attacked—Showdown to Come Wednesday.

By John B. Foster.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Whatever may have been the original idea behind the series of resolutions adopted by the National Association, the National League and the American League endorsing Commissioner Landis, baseball politicians of the East and other close students of the game are agreed that the present tendency of the campaign on the part of some of the leaders is toward the retirement of Ban Johnson as president of the American League.

The resolutions have been seized upon by Johnson's enemies as something with which to work to have him deposed by Commissioner Landis, who, of course, is the only individual in official capacity who has any authority to take action. The American League is just beginning to realize some things about the granting of power under the National League.

the Railroads

STATISTICS indicate that during the year now closing, the railroads of America have transported a volume of freight that ranks with the greatest ever handled in their history. In some respects, performance records altogether new have been established.

Did it ever occur to you that, without this aid, Santa Claus' pack would be but sparsely filled, and that Christmas would lose its greatest joy—that of gift-giving?

JUNIOR CHAMPION TO BOX TONIGHT

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 15.—The four headliners who appear here tonight at a local boxing club, completed their training work yesterday.

In the double windup, Steve (Kid) Sullivan, junior lightweight champion, and Mike Ballerino are scheduled for 10 rounds, with Pete Sarniento meeting Eddie Shea.

Will Leave Bitterness. Not much else than what has happened could have been expected since the meeting of the minor owners at Hartford. The trend since then has been steadily toward a conflict of opinion in the major circuits.

It is certain that any radical move will leave behind ranking bitterness that never will be forgotten. The American League already is beginning to assert that the National League not only is patronizing, but is threatening it, and while the National may have nothing of the sort in mind it will be difficult ever to persuade the American League that this is not the case.

Third League Possible. The latest factor to come to light in the situation is the possibility of a third league. The move is very much under cover just now, but if both the majors should happen to make the situation just right there are men who are quite willing to make a try at the establishment of a circuit that will raise Ned with the Class AA leagues and pave the way for another of those delightful scraps that the national game has revealed in the past.

The very optimistic reports about baseball in the majors in 1924 have engaged the attention of the speculators again and the good business in the regular season, combined with the extraordinary financial success of the world's series, has aroused the money-making instincts of sports backers exactly as the same thing has happened before.

A bold leader might lay his plans and bring about enough of a disturbance to bring more wrinkles to the brows of men who have had experience with the upheaval of reorganization and who know what a vexing problem it means for them.

Sentiment With Johnson. While Johnson has made his enemies in baseball and has offended many by his autocratic ways, the present thinly-veiled attack upon him is turning some sentiment in his direction, showing the inherent tendency of the American public to take the part of the under dog.

It is urged by his friends in the East and not denied by his enemies, that Johnson has always been a hard fighter for honest baseball and that seems paramount to anything else that may have to do with politics that may be said against him.

The fans are not much on politics, though they seem to know as much about it as the leaders themselves.

Roth and Lesnau Win. Mike Roth and J. Lesnau with a total of 1211 won the doubles tournament at the Washington alleys yesterday. H. C. Somers and T. Knowles, 1195, were second and Jason Skinner and Jim Wilson, 1181, third.

Records Smashed In California's 250-Mile Race

World Marks From 50 to 250 Miles Broken — Bennett Hill Is Victor.

CULVER CITY, Cal., Dec. 15.—Speed records that began the sporting world lay today in the wake of Bennett Hill's smashing nonstop drive to victory in the closing 250-mile race of the American Automobile Association's 1924 season here yesterday. Records broken were:

1. Harry Hartz's former world record of 119.9 miles an hour, sustained for a distance of 50 miles at Charlotte, N. C., last October, replaced yesterday by Ralph de Palma, veteran Italian driver, whose average for the first half-hundred miles was 128.6 miles an hour.

2. Hartz's Charlotte record for 100 miles of 119.4 miles an hour, smashed by Hill's average of 128 miles an hour in the speedy new Culver City bowl.

3. Hartz's 200-mile record of 119.4, also established at Charlotte speedway, outclassed by Hill's speed of 128.9.

4. Tommy Milton's 250-mile record of 118.7 miles an hour, established in the October Charlotte race, and bettered by more than eight miles an hour, when Hill finished yesterday's whirl in 1 hour, 58 minutes and 18.3 seconds, or an average speed of 126.9 miles an hour.

Hartz had a hand in the smashing of his and Milton's records, finishing second, after a phenomenal spurt in the final 20 miles, in 1 hour 58 minutes 13.5 seconds, or an average of 126.2 miles an hour. In finishing third, 5.2 seconds behind Hartz, with an average of 126.1, Milton also shared in the honors of record smashing, as did Fred Comer, W. E. Shattuck and J. S. Wilkinson, who finished fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively. Comer's average was 125.7, Shattuck's 124.2 and Wilkinson's 121 flat. The average of Pietro Bordino, who took seventh honors, fell below Milton's October mark, being 114.7. Phil Shafer, finishing eighth, also averaged 114.7.

Eddie Hearne, the only other driver of the 16 starters who was in the contest at the finish, was flagged down with two laps yet to go.

The seven who dropped out of the race were, in the order named, Earl Cooper, Antoine Mourre, Jerry Wonderlich, Wade Morton, Peter de Paolo, Ralph de Palma and Robert McDonough.

Title Goes to Dead Man. Cooper was the only contestant who had enough national championship points to win the American Automobile Association 1924 title by taking first in yesterday's race, so when a broken piston forced him from the track before he had gone 25 miles, the 1924 speed championship went automatically to the late Jimmy Murphy, who was killed in a race at Syracuse, N. Y., last October.

Murphy, before his speedway career ended tragically, had earned 1595 points toward the title. Cooper today still stands second, with 1240. Hill third with 1214. Milton fourth with 1101 and Comer fifth with 725.

Yesterday's race, the opening speed event of the newly constructed Culver City bowl, was witnessed by more than 50,000 spectators.

Hill and Milton ran a nonstop race, and when Hartz went to the pits for a tire, he seemed hopelessly handicapped.

Milton protested the award of second honors to Hartz, contending a mistake in timing must have been made due to Hartz's brief session in the pits. Officials checked back over the records last night, but said they would have no definite announcement to make public until late today.

DUNCAN AND MITCHELL WIN OVER AMERICANS

By the Associated Press. ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Dec. 15.—George Duncan and Abe Mitchell of Great Britain yesterday defeated Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, American professionals, 4 and 3, in an exciting golf match of 36 holes.

Duncan and Mitchell were inside the Americans on their approach shots virtually throughout the match. Duncan, the Scot, was in rare form in the morning when he had a score of 69 for the round, and his team was 3 up. Hagen and Sarazen played hard in the afternoon but could not break through because of the brilliant team work of the foreigners.

Murray of Kirkwood Makes Hole in One, His Second in Year

P. MURRAY made his second hole in one at the Kirkwood Country Club Saturday when he holed his tee shot at the third hole, which measures 258 yards. Last spring he made an ace on the seventeenth hole at the Forest Park municipal links.

Murray was playing Saturday with Red Lancaster, the club professional, who stroked the Kirkwood course in 71, one under par. Lancaster had twos on No. 1, No. 3 and No. 10. The Kirkwood players are using the regular greens except at Nos. 7, 10 and 17.

Hagenlacher Plays Suzuki.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Erich Hagenlacher, ballkline billiard champion of Germany, will begin this afternoon the task of attempting to defeat Kamataro Suzuki of Japan by more than 800 points in a handicap 18.2 match. The match will be played in blocks of 10 for Hagenlacher to 300 for Suzuki, the German striving to reach 3200 points before Suzuki's total amounts to 2400.

Widener Likely to Succeed Belmont

New Chairman of Jockey Club Will Be Chosen Next Month.

By G. F. T. Ryall, Of the New York World Sport Staff.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The coming year will see a new order of things in racing in this State. The death of August Belmont, the directing power of the Jockey Club, has left vacant the chairmanship of that organization. In all probability, his successor will be Joseph E. Widener, millionaire sportsman, of Philadelphia.

The annual meeting of the Jockey Club comes about the middle of next month and before then men rich and powerful in racing circles will be pulling wires for themselves and friends. However, it is the opinion of those close to official circles that the choice will be Widener. F. K. Sturgis, the vice chairman, is considered too old a man for the natural order of succession. H. K. Knapp, one of the senior stewards, associated with the organization almost from its beginning, has been ill for several

An Outstanding Service

The development of the Cracking Process by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one of the outstanding achievements in the progress of the petroleum industry.

The history of cracking, as a commercial development, is written large in the annals of this organization.

It is impossible to calculate the good which—directly or indirectly—has come from the development of this scientific process for increasing the world's supply of gasoline.

Without it the great automotive industry, which has influenced to so striking a degree the every-day life of the people of this country, never could have attained its present gigantic proportions.

In 1913, American refineries produced about 1,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline, which constituted about 12 1/2% of the crude oil run in refinery stills.

In 1923, American refineries produced about 7,500,000,000 gallons of gasoline, which constituted about 30% of the crude oil run in refinery stills. A substantial part of this increase was made possible by the Cracking Process.

The Burton Process, developed in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), is acknowledged to be the first commercial process available and, while others have developed processes to achieve similar results, the greater part of the gasoline made by the Cracking Process comes from Burton stills.

While developing the Burton process, for increasing the production of gasoline from a given quantity of crude oil, is an outstanding service, it is but one of the many services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to keep the supply of gasoline sufficient to meet the demands of the motoring public.

Omaha Books 14 Games. OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 15.—A schedule of 14 pre-season games has been arranged for Omaha Western League champions of 1924. Owner Harney Burch announced yesterday that the games will be played with Houston of the Texas League as follows: Shreveport, March 21 and 22; Beaumont, March 22 and 23; Houston, April 2, 3, 4 and 5; and April 9, 10, 11 and 12. Burch team will jump from Beaumont to a Western League city where they will open the regular season which. Owner Burch says, will probably be Oklahoma City.

He took his wife's advice —and Rem relieved cough

A maker of a product might wax unduly enthusiastic—but when Mr. Layton's wife recommended REM, because of what it had done for her cough and the children's, he knew it was good advice.

Mr. Layton is a Baltimorean—lives at 1912 Sherwood Ave. In his own words:

"I'm a plasterer and work a lot in buildings just being built. Very often it's damp and cold and in winter I often get coughs and colds as a result.

"Last winter I had one that I had an awful time getting rid of. Nothing seemed to help it.

"I guess I'd had it yet if my wife hadn't suggested I take REM for it. She had used it for both our son and oldest daughter, and it stopped their coughs in no time.

"It fixed me up too, mighty quickly. It eased my coughing right away, and after a couple of bottles my cough, cold and pain had disappeared.

"I got it around at Pense's Pharmacy and I think it's worth its weight in gold."

It speaks well for a remedy when it quiets a cough quickly.

One of the reasons REM so often does so is because of a special ingredient (too expensive for old-style, slower-acting cough syrups). Clinging to your throat as you swallow, it quickly soothes the sore, inflamed throat tissues.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates. You will find REM at your drugstore, in the blue package with the round orange label. You can have your money back if REM doesn't help you. Surely fair enough!

FIVE MEN, CAUGHT AT RUM LAUNCH, HELD

Four of Them Said to Admit Transporting Liquor, Other Denies Charge.

The five men arrested Saturday night in the act of unloading a cargo of whiskies, wines, champagnes and cordials at a deserted section of the Illinois levee, just south of East St. Louis, have been bound over to the St. Clair County Court under a $2000 bond each.

Four of the men, August, Tovilleaux, 28 years old, of New Orleans, the engineer of the rum launch; H. T. Miller, 38, the captain, also of New Orleans; Sam Strumoz, 28, of Madison, Ill.; Sytan Evnoff, 20, of Granite City, Ill., and Peter Stoyke, 30, of St. Louis, have pleaded guilty to the charge of illegal transporting of intoxicating liquor. William Durrett, 55 years old, of St. Louis, the fifth man arrested, denied that he was a party to the crime, saying that he was hunting in the vicinity of the craft when the raid was made. He was held under the same charge.

The capture resulted from the search Saturday afternoon by Chief Deputy Bert Farrell of East St. Louis for a stolen auto reported to have been abandoned near the spot where the launch was moored. It became suspicious when he noticed the activity on board the boat and immediately applied for a search warrant. Eight hundred quarts of liquors were found.

By the Associated Press. St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 15.—Edward Young Blum, general secretary of the American Farm Congress, died at a hospital here today. Mr. Blum has been ill since contracting a cold on a drive to Manhattan, Kan., Thanksgiving day. He became secretary of the American Farm Congress Aug. 1, 1923. Mr. Blum was born in Kansas City, Kan., in 1885.

Can't Stop Joint-Ease

"You can't stop people from buying Joint-Ease for sore throat and cold in chest," writes one of our druggist friends. "They say it's the best ever."

We know that, of course, but please remember that Joint-Ease is for stuffy, swollen, painful joints, whether rheumatic or not, and its tremendous sale for that purpose proves that it is the one joint remedy that gets the most satisfying results.

A tube costs 60 cents at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 7th and Washington Av., and druggists everywhere. Just rub it on and in a few seconds it disappears completely under the skin, and relief follows instantly.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

Advertising Concentration in November

POST-DISPATCH LEADS NEXT TWO NEWSPAPERS ADDED TOGETHER!

Again in November, as in many previous months for many previous years, the Post-Dispatch, alone, carried far more paid advertising than the next two newspapers COMBINED. The measurements for November follow:

ACCUSED TRAPPER IS SEEN IN LOCALITY OF CRIME

Minnesota Sheriff to Search Woods for Man Accused of Stabbing Woman Alone in Cabin.

WARROAD, Minn., Dec. 15.—Tony Reamer, trapper, who is wanted in connection with the death of Mrs. Elsie Wheeler, found dead in a cabin in the northwest angle country, was seen Saturday by Jay Young, who returned from there yesterday. Young said he conversed with the trapper.

A warrant for the arrest of Reamer is in the hands of the Sheriff, Thomas Blind of Daudette, who left here with three deputies to make a search of the woods for the trapper. Reamer's cabin is only a few miles from the place where Mrs. Wheeler's body was found by her husband with a butcher knife thrust into her side.

Young stated upon his arrival from the angle yesterday that he discussed briefly the Wheeler death with Reamer. Both men apparently were ignorant of the warrant at the time.

Reamer told him, Young said, that he was ready to testify again should authorities call on him for more information. The first indication of a motive for the slaying came in reports from Wichita, Kan. It was stated that one time Mrs. Wheeler repulsed Reamer, and he was repulsed for his advances by his employer.

At the inquest, E. C. Middleton, County Attorney of Baudette, stated Reamer said he had not met Mrs. Wheeler until she came to the angle country with her husband from Kansas. This and other inconsistencies led him to issue the warrant, the attorney declared.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN IN FACTORIES THIS WEEK

Move Sponsored by Central Trades and Labor Union to Aid Tuberculosis Society.

Industrial Week, which begins today, is being observed by the Central Trades and Labor Union in conjunction with Health Week. This action was sponsored by the Central Trades and Labor Union which induced Health Week as a valuable asset to industrial health work. The Christmas seal campaign will be intensively carried out in all mercantile and factory plants during the week with Mrs. A. G. Wichman acting as chairman.

The Health Talk Bureau of the Tuberculosis Society of St. Louis is scheduling four talks daily to be given simultaneously in various factories. In addition, health movies and a short reel on the Christmas seal will be shown, and literature distributed. These talks will emphasize the importance of the society's efforts to reach the public in carrying out its activities to prevent tuberculosis and promote better health.

WOOD REPORTS FAVORABLY ON TREATMENT OF LEPROSY

Governor-General to Ask for Millions for Leprosy Treatment.

MANILA, Dec. 15.—Gov. General Leonard Wood, who is inspecting the Cullion leprosy colony, where the Chinamen of treatment is used, has telegraphed the executive office in Manila that he is very much encouraged at the treatment of leprosy and conditions at Cullion. The telegram said:

"More than 300 leprosy were shown to be negative during the last year. In other words, ten percent of those under regular treatment are negative, and the doctors predict that there will be an additional ten percent in the future. The situation is most encouraging, and an effort should be made to fully equip the colony with dormitories."

"I am going to appeal to the people of the United States for a million dollars to complete this establishment, and the results obtained will be for the good of the entire world."

THIRTEENTH INSTALLMENT.

AMONG them passed the water-boy, who was a free boy, and drew 50 cents a day from the City Treasury. Not only did he quench the thirst of his patrons; he furnished diversion as well and a chance to loaf right under the eyes of the straw-boss. "Gimme vatah, I' boy!" would begin like a chant and swing into a song while the dipper was passed among the sweltering men, moving bronze statues on pedestals of gray stone. A big bony fellow with a criminal face would start a double-shuffle, in spite of his leg-irons, and down the line his song would go:

"You Jack o' dye-muns, you Jack o' dye-muns,
You rob my packets of silvah an' gold."

The workhouse quarry was regarded as conservative, even 20 years ago, when the pneumatic striking jackhammer drill was less perfect than it is today and quarrymen hadn't learned to saw through stone like so much cheese. At the workhouse they drilled by hand, just as they do today. It was a leisurely process, giving petty offenders much time to contemplate their wrongs; and that we take it, is the end and aim of public correction. Respectable union masons were hired by the day to do the fine work such as firing the blasts or dressing dimension stone and paving blocks. . . .

From his humble work beside the hand-car Admah would glance up sometimes and imagine that he saw his father, mallet in one hand, chisel in the other, philosophically chipping his queer life away. . . . They had served 16 of their 30 days; Admah leaned a while on his shovel before he said, "Look here, Elmer, you've been to a lot of places and seen a lot. What do you reckon I ought to do about Ma?"

"Write her a letter and tell her a fairy story," replied Elmer without hesitation. "But she can't read." "That's different again," Elmer considered the point. "I guess you got a few neighbors that can. How about your brother?"

"He can," The suggestion made Admah uncomfortable. "Well, then, he can read it to her, can't he? Just write 'er a fairy story. Wait about a week, then say you got a fine new candy butcher on the river boat, and that you ain't got time to see her for a few days, but that you'll blow back to the old home pretty soon with a big wad o' dough."

The day you're loose from the jug just walk in on her and say that the guy who had the candy concession on the boat gypped you for your last nickel. She'll bite. I never saw a lady yet who wouldn't fall for a hard-luck story."

"You don't know my ma, I reckon," said Admah wistfully. "Nope. And you don't know mine."

"Where's she?" "She's dead. She was a kinker." That was what Elmer needed a mother, a cheerful liar, a complacent gambler, something of a rogue and something of a coxcomb, he never failed to strike fire on Admah's imagination. Paradoxically, too, Admah trusted him. Trusted him in spite of the ill luck that had so swiftly followed their meeting on the wharf. With an instinct for chances which seemed to him to be a divine gift, Elmer chose for his companion a young man whose mother had been a professional contortionist, and whose homely principle that like cures like he had full faith in Elmer's leading him out of the trouble he had helped him to.

Chapter 24. It was their twenty-ninth day of captivity. In the drowsy pause after noon dinner they sat at the shady angle of a brick wall and discussed Socialism, each according to his lights. There were, of course, several representatives of the I. W. W. in the white rank, but Elmer avoided them with all the snobbery which a hard-earned shows toward an advanced Red.

"Sure the System's all on the blink," Elmer confided to his chum; Elmer's Socialism was of his own manufacture. "It's all wrong. Nobody tries to deny that. The Capitalist gets a hammerlock on the workin' classes, and to the nut they go. Not a chance for the featherweight. Some big bloater of a millionaire steals the waterfront and goes to Congress. Two poor shrimps like you and me steal a ride on one of his boats and go to the Workhouse."

"What are you goin' to do about it?" drawled Admah, who had heard this argument before and was trying to think out a way of meeting his mother.

"Not a thing. That's my program. See? All these rummies yellin' their heads about burnin' down the Keokuk Chamber of Commerce because its capitalists give me a pain. They haven't got the idee at all. Now lemme tell you something."

He poked a long forefinger into Admah's ribs and fixed him with his glittering eye.

"Do you know how to beat the game? Be a Capitalist—see? Go in for the kale with both feet. Hook up with the heavyweights who wear side-runners on their faces and spats and high silk kielies. That's my program. Get the dough."

"It's mine, too," agreed Admah a little weakly. In the rough, tough language of stage and track

"And I'll catch the pieces comin' out, huh?" "I'll just smooth her down a little, then you can come in and fix her up about the lunch wagon."

"You're the doctor," replied the man of affairs and stuck another cigarette into the corner of his mouth from which one habitually hung.

Admah left his confederate and sauntered up to the little Candy House with its faded orange boards and dull red trimmings. It had lost its luster. Some neighborhood boy had thrown an old tin pail into the front garden which, stared dustily. The geraniums were dead, going to seed miserably; the marigolds were brown withered; Ma's patch of lawn turned the color of the powdery weeds on the Fort's dry brow. The shades were drawn in the two front windows, the door was locked.

In queer panic Admah ran around the side of the house and up to the back stoop. Everything locked, all the shades down. He pounded idiotically on the panels, rattling the knob until it came loose in his hands. Ma was away. . . . She had gone out selling candy, and Jo was at the Works, as usual. . . . That was it. . . . But the place looked so ramshackle, so down at heel, as if negroes had been living there a long time. . . . A mop that stood at a corner of the stoop attracted his attention; it was dry as the geraniums in the yard. No one could have used it for a week or more. Ma was gone.

"Well, so you've come back!" Admah turned sharply and saw Mrs. Stek, an old hagard, marionette of Mabel, staring over the fence.

"Where's Ma?" he asked breathlessly, reading bad news in her look.

"She's 'sho' nuff time you was askin' 'er that question," drawled Mrs. Stek. "You've made right smart 'er trouble for yo' Ma, and that's a fact. But let it be a judgement on her. She had little enough charity for me an' mine in 'er trouble an' distress. And now when her own boys has turned agin' 'er!"

"Where's Ma?" he repeated suddenly, tempted to fall upon the woman and rend her.

"In the County Hospital where she should o' been long ago. Last week we found her with lung fever, wanderin' on the Fort. Said she was lookin' for yer Pa. Not that I hold much agin' 'er. She's had her burdens. With such a pair—"

"Where's Jo?" he asked, too stunned to catch the full import of that awful story.

"Jo? Oh, he's long gone. It was him that busted her, I reckon. When she learned that he'd backslid his religion and ran away to marry that Catholic gal—"

He found himself covering his ears, rushing away from the woman's horrid clatter. He ran clumsily like a wounded man, hastened by the silly idea that running would do some good. It would take him to the County Hospital in time to help, to straighten things out, to be some use. He had killed his mother. Killed her down at the Works. With his own unfeeling hands. . . . But he could fix everything if he got there in time.

CHAPTER 25. But running did no good. "She's been asking for you," said the nurse in her stereotyped tone as she led him through the ward. They had drawn a screen in front of the woman's bed so that her dying might be a little private. Embarrassed by all this official cleanliness, Admah stood in his rough clothes and stared at the woman, skeleton face on the pillow. Scanty gray hair was combed straight back, showing skin stretched tight over a narrow skull. There was dignity in the thin hooked nose and sharply closed lips. She was not still the motions of work.

CHAPTER 26. It was mid-morning of the next day when Admah and his partner got off at the car barns and sauntered together up Dutch Hill. A month's absence had changed everything for Admah. The car barns, the soap factory, the Fort itself seemed to have shrunk in scale. He felt that he had been gone a long time, had visited foreign ports, had grown a little gray. The Workhouse had been no pleasure, certainly, but it had been such a change from the little routine of Dutch Hill.

Elmer had been talking steadily ever since they had resumed their ordinary clothing and caught the trolley to town. As he talked the future grew from a dissolute lunch wagon they had expanded into a glittering store front on Grand avenue with fancy fruits in the window and a real onyx soda fountain running till the way along the north side. His sanguine gabble helped Admah on his hard trip home. The unchecked flow of optimism heartened him, gave him courage to face Ma and have it out with her.

But he halted by the little spindly lamp post at the corner. It wouldn't do, he decided, to break Elmer on Ma all at once. Elmer wouldn't look respectable to Ma; would look respectable to Ma; and his talk would scandalize her until she understood him. Since he had gone back to the tight plaid suit he looked a little worse than before; early hours and regular labor had agreed with him and he had put on weight. The cut of his trousers had not allowed for that; they threatened to burst. His very high and very dirty collar looked duds. Ma detested duds.

"Look here, Elmer," suggested Admah diplomatically, "suppose you hang around here, and I'll go in."

"And I'll catch the pieces comin' out, huh?" "I'll just smooth her down a little, then you can come in and fix her up about the lunch wagon."

Today's Winning Puzzle

The puzzle printed below wins the prize of $10 offered daily by the Post-Dispatch for the most original cross-word puzzle submitted to this paper. It was contributed by R. F. Jones, 3836 Juniata street, St. Louis, Mo. The solution of this puzzle will be printed tomorrow.

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word. Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock. Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Living as if You Were to Die Tonight

The Man Who Learns to Become Strong
His Natural Responses; Thomas J. Gallup
ceives a New Aristocracy of the Emotions.

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Taking the medium of Thomas J. Gallup, of Gallup's Food Stuffs, Inc., to express his personal views on the meaning of life, Mr. Tarkington here continues the series of articles which represent the fruits of many years of writing and thinking.

The character, Gallup, a dynamic rich man, who has been too busy to get married, or even to live, is convalescing from an operation in a hospital, and he discusses the reflections that now come to him with Dr. Parsloe, his physician. Miss Crocsey, his attractive nurse, is a third character in the setting. Gallup, after taking his first chance for meditation in 25 years, finds himself wondering what everything is all about; and comparing man to a bug, he decides that the same urge—the urge to happiness—drives them both. Yet with the sought-for end achieved, it does not seem to be happiness after all. Which leads Gallup to the conviction that life, with its menace of tragedy, is rather thin ice.

"Life is pretty thin ice," repeated the importantly successful millionaire. Thomas J. Gallup, to his physician. "In our youth we go sliding over the surface, laughing; we see it give way under people in the distance; we hear them cry out faintly and disappear; but that can't really happen to us, we think; and we sing as we go. Then after while, the ice gets thinner, and most of our comrades who began sliding with us have fallen through—some of them startlingly near us."

"Well, we still slide on, while the ice gets thinner and thinner under us, and we realize it can't support us much longer—and the only singing and laughter we hear is from far behind us, where the young people haven't found out how thin the ice is and how obscure the dark water underneath."

The doctor laughed. "I'm to understand that this is optimism, am I? Might we call it the optimism of a gloomy convalescent?"

"Call it the optimism of a man whose convalescence has given him his first opportunity to think about anything important since he started in business. But optimism it certainly is."

"My hearing must be peculiar," Parsloe said, affecting puzzlement. "If what you've been saying is cheering and hopeful?"

"You've heard only part of it," the patient interrupted. "If you'll be quiet a few minutes I'll show you the optimism in it."

"By all means! I'm quiet already. Go ahead."

"This is how the thing appears to me," Gallup said, staring thoughtfully before him at the blank gray wall of the hospital room. "Sometimes we say we come out of 'nowhere' into this world; but that only means we don't know where we came from. We may have come out of somewhere and we may go somewhere when we die—we can't properly say we come out of nowhere, and go nowhere. We come out of the unknown and presently we pass on into the unknown."

"Well, in the interval between these two unknown conditions we are in the condition we call 'life.' And in this condition—while we're what we call 'alive'—we find ourselves incessantly occupied in trying to be happy. That is, we are always in action of some kind or other, trying to get to be happier than we are. We haven't got any power to choose whether or not we'll be in such action or not."

11. Puzzle pattern used in announcement of contest is not acceptable.

or I can choose to do that which my observations tell me would be, in the long run, the course interdicted by the urge to happiness. Having said this to himself, an Othello of my upper class would decide neither to do murder nor to act in any manner upon the promptings of jealousy.

Dominated by Pie.
"I see your point," said the doctor. "But I don't see that Othello has any choice in the matter, since you imply that if he sees both good and evil before him he's sure to choose the good."
"No; the choice is always there," the patient returned. "I have a friend who eats pie at midnight though he absolutely knows it will make him sick in the morning. What I said was that an Othello who belonged to my aristocracy would have looked down thoughtfully upon his jealousy and would have chosen not to be governed by it. In fact, an Othello of my aristocracy would never have married Desdemona at all. He would have said to himself: 'I observe that I am passionately in love with this lady, but the difference in color will eventually be disastrous. I will return to Morocco.'"

"The upper class of people, as I see the world, consists of those whose understanding gives them the choice between good and evil and who choose the good. The lower class is all the rest of the people. That's my optimism, doctor. I believe that there is an option in life for those who take thought to perceive it. They can choose which class to join."

"And you've decided to belong henceforth to the elect few," the doctor said, as he rose to go. "That's good. But how do you propose to set about it?"
"I made up my mind, Gallup said slowly: 'I made up my mind that if I ever got well again I'd start in every morning and live thrifty exactly as if I knew I had to die that night.'"

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

Reddy and Mrs. Reddy Make the Best of a Bad Matter

Who of bad matters makes the best Will win, whatever be the test.

—Reddy Fox.

"It might be worse," said she; "we can make it do"

PLANNING a new home and getting a new home were quite different matters, as Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy soon found out. Had it been spring or summer, getting that new home would have been merely a matter of doing a little work. They would have decided where they wanted that new home and then would have dug it. But now the ground was frozen. There could be no digging.

They made sure that their old home had been ruined. They poked their heads in at the front door and at the back door. The smell of smoke was still strong. There was no doubt that that home was ruined so far as they were concerned. In the first place there was that smell of smoke. But worse still was the knowledge that all those hunters knew where that home was. It wouldn't be safe to live there.

"It's no use," said Mrs. Reddy sadly. "We may as well give up all thought of using this old home any more. I wouldn't feel safe a minute in it. No, sir, I wouldn't feel safe a minute. I don't know what we'll do, for we can't dig a new home with the ground frozen this way. I suppose we'll have to use an old house."

"I suppose we will," said Reddy meekly. "I suppose we can use the old one we had two years ago over on the edge of the Green Forest."

"We'll go look at it," declared Mrs. Reddy. So together they started off. When they reached the old home they found the doorway partly filled in with sand and leaves. The sand wasn't frozen.

Mrs. Reddy set to work with her black paws. She soon had the leaves and the sand out. She went on down in. Presently she poked her head out.

"It might be worse," said she. "We can make it do. The back door has got to be opened up. The back hall is full of rubbish. We've got to get that out. I wouldn't for a minute consider living in a house without a back door. If it hadn't been for the back door in our ruined home over there in the Old Pasture neither of us would be alive now. Any Fox who gets caught in a place with only one way out doesn't deserve to escape. Now get busy, Reddy Fox, and clear out that back hall."

9 Reasons for World Leadership

Give her the gift of a genius—a gift that's been snatched from the future.

Realize—if you can—what it will mean to her to come downstairs on Monday—lend a hand here, a hand there and soon her whole week's washing's done. It's play compared to what her getting-the-wash-out-hours have been.

Can you appreciate what this means—"a tubful of clothes hygienically snow-white in from 3 to 7 minutes," "50 lbs of dry clothes washed an hour," or this—"no handrubbing necessary on wristbands, neckbands, or collars?" You may not fully appreciate such remarkable laundering performance, but she will and quickly, too. There's only one washer in the world whose principle provides such startling efficiency—a washer which in 600 days has swept into world leadership—and that's the Maytag Gyrafoam! You couldn't give a finer gift—nor one so emphatically practical.
